

SCHEME OF CHARTERS UNSUITABLE

H. S. Gilbertson, Authority on City Government, Wires Objection to Manager Plan As Applied To Oakland

Declares Local Districting on Artificial Lines Facilitates Manipulation; Should Be Right Even If It Takes Time

After having thoroughly examined the proposed city and county charter for Oakland, and its amendments, H. S. Gilbertson, nationally recognized authority on city government, by reason of his extensive knowledge of the city manager plan, today sent a telegram to the Alameda County Anti-Division League setting forth his objections to the plan as it applies to Oakland.

While heartily favoring the city manager plan, Gilbertson bases his objections to the Oakland city and county charter upon several vital points.

First—Because local districting on artificial lines facilitates manipulation and minority rule.

Second—Because, while the position of city manager should not be too secure, the power of removal placed in a simple majority of the council, as this charter provides, would make the place untenable to a suitable man, especially if the council is chosen by wards.

Third—The formation of a separate county comprising less than the whole urban territory seems irrational and uneconomical. Charter should be made acceptable to Berkeley and Alameda, and "things done right even if it takes time."

Fourth—The charter should be made acceptable to Berkeley and Alameda, and "things done right even if it takes time."

Charles E. Gilbertson, a member of the American Institute of Political Science and author of many works on this subject, has drafted the original city manager law and is recognized as the leading authority on the United States on the city manager plan of today. He has made a special study of municipal government, and is secretary of the National Municipal League.

Gilbertson volunteers his criticism of the proposed city and county charter because of his profound interest in Oakland. He was born here, and in 1899 was graduated from the Oakland High School. In 1902 he received his bachelor's degree from the University of California. He later attended Columbia University, where he received his doctor's degree in political science. His government caused him to be recognized throughout the country as an authority, and it was through this recognition that he was induced to draft the original city manager law.

His objections to the Alameda County Anti-Division League is as follows:

"I have examined Oakland charter and amendments, and while heartily favoring the city manager plan, I believe the specific proposal is unfortunate in several vital particulars. Local districting on artificial lines is certainly a serious defect. The city manager should not be too secure, but power of removal by simple majority would make the place untenable to a suitable man, especially if the council is chosen by wards. Formation of a separate county comprising less than whole urban territory seems irrational and uneconomical. Charter should be made acceptable to Berkeley and Alameda, and 'things done right even if it takes time.'"

Parley May Save Prisoners in Ulster

DUBLIN, Feb. 2 (By the Associated Press).—Parley may save prisoners in Ulster.

Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, at their meeting here today probably will reach a settlement of the long-standing dispute over the release of the 1,000 Sinn Féin prisoners under sentence of death in the Londonderry jail. Had they been confined in southern Ireland under the Anglo-Irish treaty, but Londonderry is within the Ulster jurisdiction and the law is taking its course. The execution of the men has been delayed for several days because of the cold weather.

THREE-MINUTE TALES

By Do Schuster

HIDE AND SEEK

Jim and Jack Barry were brothers. In addition to the deep ties of affection that sometimes bind twins, they possessed a link of misfortune and dependence, for which they were orphans. Until they were 15 they lived together, once in the family of a farmer who made them work, not too hard, for the care he gave them, and later within the walls of a state institution of charity. Then well-meaning persons stepped in and took them away, and Jim and Jack were separated. There was not a day that each did not think of the other, and their common wish was for the day when they might be united.

One day Jack Barry was a tramp. He was wandering about, looking for something that sounded in his heart and his brain, and he excused his shiftness ways, conveniently, by reasoning that some day he might find Jim. So it was that Jack, one night, hung around a water tank in Kansas and waited for a freight.

When the engine whistled for the stop Jack posted himself on the shadowed side of a heavy steel port to the tank and waited his opportunity. Gliding along the string of cars, he kept his eyes open for two things. One was an unlocked door of an empty and the other was any trainman who might appear. Jack was only 50-50 and the best he could find was an empty coal car, into which he jumped and crouched in a corner.

The train moved and Jack heard the fireman shout until the noise of pounding wheels and rattling cars drowned the sound. Then a brakeman with a lantern jumped into the car and Jack, escaping, leaped to the box car behind and sent up the ladder.

Jack reached the end of the car, darted down a ladder, and clung tight before the brakeman was on the side away from the voice, and the pursuer passed on back toward the caboose, giving Jack the opportunity to work his way back to the coal car.

"He won't come back for a while," Jack thought. "And if I am lucky or if he's a good guy, he may not come at all."

The train rolled on and before long the squeaking brakes announced another stop. Jack slipped out of the car and moved up to the locomotive, where he perched on the pilot. "This is a third-rate accommodation," he said to himself, "and I wouldn't accept it if it wasn't to show that brakeman a thing or two."

He hoped the fireman would not see him.

A passenger train, genuine rattler, swung out of the dark and the glare of its headlight fell for a moment on the blinking hobo. An engine whistled from the cab and the train moved on. The hobo, who was as unintelligible as the voice sounded in the roar of the train, it was enough. The brakeman moved along the top with his lantern, the fireman stretched his hand out to the cab and the engineer kept watch on his side. The tramp hesitated a second, then broke into a quick run for the rear of the train, distancing the brakeman, and made a dive for the rods. The train, he was then started, came to a stop.

"Gosh, this is a tight crew," thought Jack, scrambling out at the approach of the light. While the brakeman poked under the car, Jack climbed to the roof of the locomotive and onto the top of the couple. With arms and legs outstretched, he clamped a precarious hold on what was like the back of a huge turtle. "If she doesn't buck," he said, "I'll ride her."

For miles Jack rode her, his fingers stiffening and aching. With each curve in the track he risked his life and more than once his toes slipped from the edge over which they were hooked. He fought desperately against a force that would whip him off into the air. It was during one of these struggles that the brakeman, sitting in the cab, looked saw a leg hanging over the side of the locomotive and started up the ladder. The light that came from the opened door warned Jack. He dropped to the car roof, slid down the ladder, and swung to the ground.

He lay there, watching the disappearing train, a hobo shook his fist at a brakeman who leaned from a door and watched.

"Poor devil," said the brakeman, "if it wasn't for the game in the chase and the satisfaction in not being outwitted, a lot more of them could ride for all of me."

The rails clicked with the regularity of a clock as the distance between the hobo and brakeman increased.

He tried to walk to the next grade or tank," said Jack Barry, grinding the pebbles under his shoes. "And Jim Barry hung up his lantern and swapped yarns with the conductor."

Healdsburg Family Stricken; Son Also May Succumb; Serum Too Late.

HEALDSBURG, Feb. 2 (By the Associated Press).—Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Pastori, of this place, are dead and their 22-year-old son Joe is pronounced dying as the result of having been poisoned by home preserved string beans. Mrs. Pastori later stated that the contents made a dizzying noise when she ate them, and she had a peculiar taste. The beans were eaten cold.

That night Pastori and his son were taken violently ill. Mrs. Pastori was directing the rescue work, but she had become blind by the action of the poison also. Early Wednesday morning they succeeded in attracting the attention of a neighbor, Peter Esala, who had them taken to a local hospital.

The attending physician got in communication with the State Board of Health at Sacramento. Through the Hooped Medical Foundation at San Francisco a quantity of serum was procured. It is said to have been the last of this serum now remaining on the Pacific coast. It is being used here for the treatment of the other two victims were treated, but Pastori died early today, and it is believed that it will be impossible to save the son.

29 LOSE LIVES IN MINE EXPLOSION

Sixteen Bodies Recovered and Hope Abandoned For 13 Still in Shaft.

GATES, Pa., Feb. 2 (By the Associated Press).—All hope for the miners imprisoned by an explosion in the Gates mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Co. here today was abandoned at 2 o'clock this afternoon when rescue workers came across seven bodies in the working area affected by the blast. Nine bodies previously had been brought to the surface. Checking the workers believed to have been in the mine at the time of the explosion still unaccounted for probably had perished.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 2 (By the Associated Press).—Twenty-eight men, possibly more, are believed to have perished early today as a result of an explosion in the Gates mine of the H. C. Frick Coke company at Gates, 15 miles from here. Company officials estimate that between 40 and 50 men were in the mine at the time of the explosion. The bodies have been recovered. About 1000 miners are employed in this mine, but the shift had not reported on for duty when the explosion took place.

The explosion carried doctors, nurses and undertakers left here this morning. Miners, acting as volunteers, are coming from various parts. Rescuers are working from the mine to dig through the mass of debris and reach the condemned men. The exact number is yet unknown.

One statement by a company official said about 100 miners were at the mine at the time of the explosion, but that some had escaped by use of ropes and cables by which they clambered up the 350-foot shaft.

The entrance to the mine is a picture of horror. At the base of the shaft, where the explosion occurred, the bodies of the five dead miners. They have not been identified. The bodies of some of the victims are charred so badly they probably never will be identified.

Sam Brown, former Boston Braves catcher, is directing the rescue work. His wife is aiding him. Brown is superintendent of the mine.

Secretary Weeks Advises Lawmakers He Has No Authority to Accept Auto Man's Offer For Nitrate Plant

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (By the Associated Press).—Henry Ford's proposal for the government project at Muscle Shoals, Ala., was submitted today to Congress by Secretary Weeks for "such action as Congress may deem appropriate." The only suggestions contained in the letter of transmission related to "specific clauses in the contract and the desirability of amendments which would, in the event the proposal be accepted by Congress, further safeguard the government's interests."

Otherwise, the Secretary of War carefully avoids reference to Congressional action involving the ultimate acceptance or rejection of the offer as submitted.

"In the event Ford's proposal is accepted," he declared, "the government must make new appropriations amounting to $40,000,000 to $50,000,000, of which Mr. Ford will have the benefit for approximately one hundred years at four per cent."

In the event the offer be rejected, the secretary gave it as his "opinion that dam Number 2 (Wilson dam) should be completed by the government and the other dams should be left to private enterprise for commercial purposes, the benefits of navigation as well as the possible needs of the government would warrant this expenditure."

$25,000,000 SAVED BY REJECTION. "If this were done," he continues, "the government may itself undertake to sell the product to the best advantage. In such case the amount of the government's present proposed investment would be very materially reduced. Number 2 dam, costing from $13,000,000 to $25,000,000, would not be built, and it would not be necessary to make the full installation of power plant on the Wilson dam until the market required such installation."

"This partial installation," he explains, "would effect a saving of present investment in at least the sum of $3,000,000, leaving accounts for the chief of engineers' estimate, not to exceed $25,000,000 to be invested by the government at this time instead of $40,000,000 to $50,000,000."

The question of unemployment is recognized as a factor to be considered by Congress in connection with its treatment of the Muscle Shoals question.

"At this time," he points out, "when there is a large amount of unemployment, it is not without importance to consider the advantage to the nation of the employment of large amount of labor required in undertaking this development. I therefore, urge that Congress give early consideration to this matter, not only to settle the question of employment, but to furnish employment on a large scale."

WEEKS WITHOUT AUTHORITY TO DEAL. The secretary explains his action in sending the offer to Congress by declaring he is without authority to accept Mr. Ford's offer or "dispose of the property as a whole, either by sale or by lease."

He points out the necessity for determining "whether the advantage to the government of the proposed plant Number 2 maintained in readiness for the manufacture of explosives and in actual production of fertilizer, together with the improvement to navigation by the establishment of a lock and dam, justify the proposed departure from the present policy of the law in regard to dealing with the water power resources and to warrant the expenditure of so large a sum of money."

"I believe it would be a better policy," he wrote, "to limit the contract to a term of fifty years (instead of 100) to conform with the established policy of the Federal Government as set out in the water power act."

The secretary also suggested a modification by Congress of the proposal, so that in the event the operating company is created the proposed plant Number 2 should be owned by the government, and the cost of acquiring lands and power rights necessary for dam No. 3, and completing dam No. 2, and constructing dam No. 3, (exclusive of the cost of acquiring lands and power rights necessary for dam No. 3), be borne by the government, respectively, in six years after dam No. 2 has been completed to the point where equipment for 100,000 horsepower is installed and ready for service and three years after the equipment to develop 50,000 horsepower is installed and ready for service.

All But American Envoys Sign With Sheaf of Titles

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (By the Associated Press).—When the American delegates to the arms conference came to describe themselves for the purpose of the list of plenipotentiaries that always precedes the official text of treaties they set before the world a new example of democracy.

Titles and official designations of many sorts glitter opposite the names of the representatives of other governments who are parties to the treaties negotiated here, but under the head of the American delegates in the new, natural and democratic treatise appear simply this:

"For the president of the United States of America," "Charles Evans Hughes," "Henry Cabot Lodge," "Oscar W. Underwood," "Kilbuck Root," "Citizens of the United States."

Compared to this, every other delegate listed carries some sort of a handle, long or short, to his name. The longest is that of the head of the Japanese, who is described thus: "For His Majesty, the Emperor of Japan," "Baron Tomomatsu Kato, minister for the navy, Junii, a member of the First Class of the Imperial Order of the Grand Cordon of the Rising Sun, with the Paulownia Flower."

Central America Federation Plan Has Collapsed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Plans to form a federation of Central American republics have collapsed, according to word received by the state department today from American Minister Morales at Tegucigalpa, Honduras. The minister advised the department that the provisional federal council, sitting at Tegucigalpa, and in whose hands was the work of forming the proposed Republic of Central America, had suspended its activities. The despatch stated that under a decree issued by the council on January 29, the decree by which it had assumed control of the federal district at Tegucigalpa, was declared void.

S. F. CONFERENCE OF EPISCOPALIAN LEADERS CLOSES

Plea For Church Union Is Voiced Before Conclave By Bishop Parsons.

Election of officers and delegates preceded the closing today of a three-day convention of the California Episcopal conference at Grace cathedral in San Francisco. This evening a united service will be held in Grace cathedral when the convention will be brought to a close.

That the only possible way for the Christian church to completely convince the world would be a reunion of the churches of Christ into a great universal church, was the contention of Bishop Edward L. Parsons in a talk at yesterday afternoon's session. Bishop Parsons said:

"We are seeking not to get Christians to work together on practical basis, but to work together, to partake of the same Eucharist, to live together in God, to knit themselves together in one organic life and to fight the warfare of Christ as one army."

That the outcome of one united church would be a concentrated battle to bring about better labor conditions, better living conditions, more adequate safeguarding of children, better homes, higher vision in marriage, an industrial system freed from the bondage of organized competition and the seeking in democratic co-operation to build up a commonwealth of character, was the contention of Bishop Parsons.

The following were elected:

Members of the Diocesan Council: Rev. H. B. Montgomery, Rev. W. A. Brewer, Rev. C. P. Deems, E. D. Buiard, A. J. Dibble, C. H. Kroll and L. F. Montague.

Committee on examination of chaplains: Rev. J. O. Lincoln, Rev. H. H. Powell, Rev. J. Wilmer Gresham, Rev. W. H. Cambridge, Rev. St. George Buttram.

Deputies to the general tri-annual convention which will be held at Portland, Ore., in October: Dr. J. Wilmer Gresham, Dr. Alexander Allen, Dr. H. H. Powell, W. H. Crocker, F. M. Lee, L. F. Montague and H. C. Wyckoff.

Rev. J. P. Langhorne was appointed as chancellor of the diocese and Rev. W. A. Brewer as registrar.

VETERAN SUES U. S. FOR $10,000 WAR INSURANCE

DETROIT, Feb. 2.—Suit against the government for $10,000 based on the alleged default of payment of compensation under the disability clauses of the war risk insurance act has been filed by Sam Silberstein, a patient in the marine hospital here, so far as known the suit is the first of its kind brought against the government.

R. W. Fixel, past commander of Charles A. Learned post of the American Legion, who is pressing the case, declares Silberstein's allowance of $30 a month was reduced in May, 1921, to $20 a month and later discontinued without re-examination of the patient. Silberstein is declared to be unable to work.

L. A. Show Messengers Are Robbed of $1200

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2.—Two messengers from Grauman's Rialto theater were robbed of a grip containing $1200 and $600 tickets on Broadway last night, according to a report to the police.

The robbery was committed in a crowded district by three men, who escaped in an automobile.

The messengers, E. W. Neely and F. W. Peters, had left the theater to take the money to another Grauman theater.

A man stepped forward and pushed a pistol against Neely's body, according to his story. At the same time a second man, similarly confronted Peters, who was removing a theft signal contrivance from the wheel of the automobile.

Peters was struck on the head by one man while the other grabbed the grip containing the money and tickets from Neely's hand and threw it into an automobile, at the wheel of which a third man was sitting.

U. S. Plans To Cope With Mine Strike

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Plans of the government to cope with the situation which might arise in the event of a strike of coal miners when the present agreements expire at the end of next month are being worked out by the department of justice, it was indicated today by Attorney General Daugherty.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 2.—The miners' committee, of which Lee Hall, president of the Ohio district, is chairman will present its report to the convention of the union here February 14. The convention, it is said, in miners' circles, will approve the report of the committee which, it said, will recommend a substantial increase in wages for the miners.

Superior Judge E. C. Robinson today appointed David J. He died about a month ago, leaving an estate amounting to more than $10,000.

SHE PROPOSED TO ME, STOKES SAYS OF LATEST WIFE

Millionaire Tells Court How Romance Started in N. Y. Elevator.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—W. E. D. Stokes, aged financier, whose wife, formerly Miss Helen Elwood, was granted a separation last year after he failed in an attempt to divorce her, declared on the witness stand last night that it was she who did the wooing which resulted in their marriage in 1911.

Stokes' statement was made during trial of his wife's suit to enforce her dower rights to his $10,000,000 property rights, which the defendant declares were signed away by his bride-to-be in return for a contract to pay her $300 a month during their wedded life.

He said the first met his present wife in the elevator of the Hotel Ansonia, of which he is the owner. Miss Elwood, he said, was living there. She wept, he declared, in telling him of her troubles and discussing another man's proposal of marriage.

"I told her," Stokes said, "that if I was a young man she was just the kind of girl I would pick to propose to, and I asked her if she had not found any man that she loved."

"She said, 'Yes, I have found one man.' I asked her his name. She burst into tears and said that I was the man—I was the only man in the world she had ever met whom she loved."

"I told her that I was no saint and that before I could marry her I would have to turn all my property over to a corporation and could only allow myself a small sum in the form of my dower rights. If she wanted to become my wife under such circumstances, care for my boy—look after me and be satisfied, I said I would marry her."

"She agreed to the conditions and signed an agreement releasing her dower rights a day or two before the marriage."

"I became jealous of Mrs. Philip M. Lydie when I discovered that my husband, William E. D. Stokes, had been secretly visiting her. This statement of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes created a sensation."

Mrs. Lydie, before her marriage, was Miss Rita Hernandez de Albuja de Costa. She married William E. D. Stokes in 1895 and divorced him in 1900. Alimony of $12,000 a year and custody of her son "Weddie" Stokes was awarded her. Two years later she married Philip M. Lydie, divorcing him in Paris in 1919 on a charge of incompatibility.

Her engagement to Rev. Percy Stokes Grant, pastor of the Church of the Ascension, last year caused a stir in Episcopal circles. According to rules of this church a member is forbidden to marry a divorcee.

Frederick L. Searing, formerly manager of the Hotel Ansonia, when owned by W. E. D. Stokes, testified that he considered Mrs. Stokes a "well trained social pirate."

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our food turns into a mass of gas, forming acids, fluids and gases which irritate the stomach like a hot balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, indigestion, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. He states that while it is interesting and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas, and start the liver, to stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results—Advertisement.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It is cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Four 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. If desired, thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly breaks the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Sprays for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept any thing else. Guaranteed to give complete satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls of Mulsified will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses off easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified—Advertisement.

E. H. SHAUGHNESSY DIES FROM HURTS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Edward E. Shaughnessy, of Chicago, second assistant postmaster-general, died here early today at Walter Reed hospital from injuries received in the Knickerbocker Theater disaster Saturday night.

Although Mr. Shaughnessy's injuries were known to be of a critical nature, his condition had shown improvement up to yesterday and his death was unexpected. Attending physicians at the army hospital, to which Mr. Shaughnessy was taken when removed from the wreckage of the Knickerbocker Theater several hours after the disaster, said his death followed a sudden heart collapse shortly after midnight.

Shaughnessy suffered a broken pelvis and other injuries, but had shown a resistive power which made physicians hopeful of his recovery.

Mr. Shaughnessy's wife and his ten-year-old daughter, Ruth, both of whom are now recovering from injuries received in the theater disaster, had not been informed of his death at an early hour today. They are being treated at another hospital, the daughter having had both arms broken, while Mrs. Shaughnessy is suffering from a fractured rib and shock.

President Harding had shown constant concern over Mr. Shaughnessy's condition and during the first days after the accident had received encouraging reports of it through Brigadier General Sawyer, the President's personal physician, whom he had taken to the hospital to make direct inquiry.

The death of the second assistant postmaster-general brings the fatality list of the catastrophe, as now recorded by the police, to 28.

Mr. Shaughnessy was appointed second assistant postmaster-general by Will Hays to improve facilities for rapid handling of the mails, and to work with the railroads to bring about better conditions along this line.

RIDGE ROUTE TO LOS ANGELES IS OPEN TO TRAVEL

Snow, 3 Feet Deep in Places, Is Cut Through; Dealers in Golf Tournament.

By JIM HOULIHAN.

Fred Kickbush, manager of the Durant Hotel at Bebe, which is on the Ridge Route, 41 miles south of Bakersfield, told the writer, over the phone, this morning that the Ridge Route reopened again this morning.

Here are the facts concerning the Ridge Route and the storm which tied motor travel on it:

"The actual depth of snowfall was three feet," Kickbush stated, "and this depth obtained all the way from Tejon, on the northern base, to Newhall, on the southern base, on the southern side of the ridge.

"In places, the drifts were as much as twelve feet deep.

"Two cars have been at work clearing the road from snow.

"Seventy-five men are in the gang operating from the northern side of the ridge and they met at Sandberg's late yesterday, a crew of almost the same size which has been working from the southern side of the mountain highway.

"The storm started Friday night and continued almost without a letup until Monday night.

"One hundred people, riding in about 30 cars, were stuck in it and most of them have been quartered since their rescue on Tuesday at Durant Hotel."

SNOW SCENES ARE BEAUTIFUL.

Kickbush urges motorists who are keen for a close-up vision of deep snow to motor south, saying that they will see in the Tehachapi mountains a most beautiful sight. The mountains are covered, as they have not been in years, with snow.

Kickbush also announced that since the Ridge Route reopened is not difficult for motor travelers to negotiate it at a reasonable speed, even though short patches of slippery surface may be met. These will be no worse than similar ones encountered on any city street.

DETOUR OUT OF BAKERSFIELD.

The motorist who is going to Los Angeles in the next two weeks via the Valley is also advised that there is a detour south of Bakersfield, 22 miles in length. Approximately 10 miles of the main highway is closed for repairs. It is a section which is being widened and strengthened. The detour now necessary follows: Go out of Bakersfield on Union avenue to Panama station, turn right at this station 3 1/2 to Old River. At Old River turn right to Connor station and from Connor station turn back to the main highway.

Some of the detour is over dirt road and the portion between Old River and Connor Station is state highway.

The main highway is expected to be reopened about February 11.

DEALERS IN GOLF PLAYS.

Oakland motor car row will be represented in the San Francisco dealers' auto show tournament at Belmont by Norman De Vaux, Jack Miller, Bill Webber, George Vesper, Hal Beard, Howard Rector and possibly Leonard Hutton.

About 30 San Francisco dealers are taking part.

Qualifying rounds start Friday afternoon and the match play continues Saturday and Sunday.

Phil Prather of San Francisco has charge of the details in connection with the affair.

This event is looked forward to each year with a lot of enthusiasm by the motor car men.

RUSH FOR 1932 LICENSES.

The Oakland office of the Motor Vehicle Department did the biggest day's business Tuesday. It has transacted since it opened early in January. There were hundreds applying for the 1932 licenses, believing that January 31 was the last date for securing new numbers prior to the date when the 25 per cent penalty is imposed.

Those who have not applied needn't worry about paying a fine as long as they secure new certificates and plates before March 1, but they are warned by Manager Bernard of the local motor vehicle branch that after next Saturday they cannot expect the same prompt service that has been rendered for the last two weeks because the size of the force in the Harrison street office will be cut down from about forty to not more than six or seven people.

Approximately 32,000 1932 licenses have been issued by the Oakland office since the 16th. In addition there has been a large number of commercial plates delivered to truck owners and many chauffeurs' certificates have been given out.

CHICAGO EATS CANADIAN FISH, CAUGHT IN ICE

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Chicago, the biggest port on the largest chain of fresh water lakes in the world, today will begin eating fish caught in the Canadian northwest, transported from 300 to 400 miles by dog-sled and horse-drawn sleighs, and then shipped more than 1000 miles by rail.

Two carloads of fish from Lakes Winnipeg, Winnipegosis and Manitoba were placed on sale here today.

From 1500 to 2000 fishermen are engaged in catching the fish, camping out on the ice in temperatures ranging from 10 to 40 degrees freezing. Each morning the nets are drawn and the catch, which freezes quickly at such low

New Zealand Milk Investigator Leaves

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Henry A. Ward, general manager of the Wellington, New Zealand, City Corporation Milk Department, has sailed for home after an exhaustive study of milk production and distribution in this country. He held a conference with Harry S. Maddox, chief of the state division of markets, before sailing. He declared that the experiment of making milk a public utility under the exclusive control of the city of Wellington was an unqualified success.

San Leandro Auto Will Aid Boosters

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 2.—A new idea in boosting has recently been put into effect by the San Leandro chamber of commerce. Small metal plates, ten inches long by three and one-half inches wide, bearing the name "San Leandro" in blue letters on a background of white, have been ordered from a San Francisco metal stamping company. The purpose of the plates is to fasten them either above or below the license plates of all local machines.

According to Farley Granger, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, there are at present 700 machines in San Leandro, and he believes every machine will carry the booster plates. He has ordered 250 as a starter, with the understanding that more will be obtained as soon as those on hand are used up.

THIS MAN TURNS ON GAS, EXTRACTS GRAIN ALCOHOL

DECATUR, Ill., Feb. 2.—How to turn on the illuminating gas and extract pure grain alcohol from it was explained today by Dr. Eldon H. Darling, professor of chemistry at Milliken university.

As a result of his experiments, Dr. Darling has been able to obtain alcohol by purifying and drying the ordinary commercial gas, then heating it in a furnace to a temperature of 360 degrees centigrade, in contact with other gases and finally passing the resulting product through sulphuric acid. The alcohol is then extracted with water.

Spring Trimming Begins At San Leandro

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 2.—Under the supervision of Marshal J. F. Perkins, every city-owned tree is undergoing a complete spring trimming. A large force of men, at work, taking in the entire radius of the city. Ordinarily the work would not be done until a month or so later, but the signs of an early spring was the prime factor in moving Perkins to rush the work.

The trimming is serving a double purpose. The cut branches are being used by Charles Collins, of the Shore Acres Dairy, to build up a bulkhead on his land bordering the San Leandro bay, and thus save the land that is slowly being carried away by the tide.

Soaking seeds in certain chemical solutions has been found to greatly increase the yields.

Delta Gammas Are Guests At Tea

Greetings are being extended Miss Barbara Cowan of Fresno, bride-elect of John Wheeler. Miss Cowan is not a stranger to Berkeley, since she attended the University of California and is a member of the Delta Gamma society. Her wedding is set for February 25 and will take place in the Episcopal church in the southern city. Among the members of the bridal party will be Miss Kathryn Cook, Miss Florence Bragford and Miss Louise Dean of Fresno. A number of the former college associates of the bride-elect are planning to motor down for the ceremony.

Yesterday Mrs. Parrell Balsam, who was Miss Helen Clark, was hostess at tea for the bride-to-be, and assisting her to receive were Miss Eleanor Campbell, Miss Helen Trevor and Miss Laura Pearl. Among those who called were Mrs. William Stafford Gibbs, Miss Elizabeth Warner, Miss Myrtle Chamberlain, Miss Laura Pike, Miss Doris Rodolph, Miss Clair Lowe, Miss Margaret Breedlove and others.

RETROTHAL CARDS ARE SENT OUT

Retrothal cards came through the mails yesterday afternoon announcing the engagement of Miss Carol Higby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Higby of Grand street, and Philip Keller Holm of San Jose avenue. Both entered the University of California with the class of '17. Miss Higby is a member of the Delta Gamma society, and her fiancé a Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity man. Holm served with the Royal Air Forces in Toronto. The wedding is to be an event of the month of April. Miss Higby is a sister of Mrs. Howard L. Bacon, prominent in musical circles about the bay.

Mrs. Ralph Kinney and her daughter, Miss Lorene Kinney, are en route East via Panama Canal. They expect to be away for two months. In New York City they will be the guests of relatives.

Miss Arda Bibbins and her fiancé, John Davidson Burns, are to be the guests of honor Saturday evening at a dancing party to be given by Miss Annabelle Clark. The guests will include mostly the college set. The marriage of Miss Bibbins and Burns is to be solemnized in St. Clement's chapel February 15. Rev. F. Augustus Martyr will officiate.

All Souls' chapel was the setting for a pretty wedding at 3:30 o'clock last evening, when Miss Mollie Pepper became the bride of Charles Trafford Cohn. Rev. R. M. Trelease read the ritual. Formal invitations were not extended for the ceremony. A number of friends and relatives of the couple were witnesses to the service. Miss Pepper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pepper of Virginia street, and a few days ago came from England to make her home in the college city. She attended the University High School.

Cohn served with the Eighteenth Engineers in France during the World War. He is engaged in business in San Francisco, and San Mateo will be the future home of the couple.

A special meeting will be called at 8 o'clock Saturday afternoon by the committees in charge of the production, "The Vision of Fair Women," to be presented by Eastbay society maids and matrons the evening of March 4 and 5 at the Municipal Auditorium for the benefit of the endowment fund of Mills college.

ST. VALENTINE DINNER DANCE

the University Christian church. Rev. Cedric G. Price officiated. The church was banked with greenery and white carnations, the bride party standing beneath an archway of the same, from which was suspended a huge white bell.

The bride is a Berkeley High school graduate. She was attended by her sister, Miss Irene Wittner as maid of honor, and the Misses Gladys Alison of Turlock, Maisie Chilton and Violet Knowles of Berkeley, bridesmaids. Reed Freeman was best man for his brother and Messrs. Willard Wittner, George Wittner and Lavere Hoffstedder, ushers.

Mrs. E. Norton sang "O Promise Me" and Miss Laura Bailor played the wedding march.

The bride wore a conventional gown of white satin with veil and orange blossoms. Her attendants wore frocks in the Paisley shades of blue, gold, Nile green and apricot.

A reception was held in the church parlors and a wedding breakfast served later at the home of the bride's parents, at which relatives and intimate friends were guests.

The future home of the couple will be in San Francisco.

Captain and Mrs. Homer Clark Poundstone yesterday took possession of their new apartment at the Hotel Oakland, moving up the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Knight, which they occupied during the absence of the owners in Europe.

The Knights and their daughter, Miss Claire Knight, have been home about a week.

In honor of Mrs. Knight, a luncheon will be given the afternoon of February 3 by Mrs. Charles Minor Goodall, at her home in the Lake district.

Ebell Club Discusses Plans For New Home

By EDNA B. KINARD.

The spring is seriously turning club women's thoughts toward new homes. Here comes Ebell, the pioneer club of Oakland and the only one with the exception of the Oakland New Century to own a building, asking the ladies of the question, "Shall we have a new clubhouse?"

Tuesday next will determine something of the minds of the 600 members. For the February business meeting will present for debate the subject upon which a straw ballot will be taken. The various opinions and suggestions offered will form the basis for future action and perhaps result in presenting to the members later concrete projects to be decided upon.

Truth is, that Ebell has outgrown its comfortable Harrison street structure. Attendance upon luncheons must be limited to half of the membership—even less if there are to be outside guests. The auditorium has been taxed throughout the season by reason of the entire entertainments which have been offered under the presidency of Mrs. William Nat Friend. Ebell is facing the necessity of doing something about it. Old members and new are being urged to contribute to the round table and help in the solution of what that something shall be.

Income from the Harrison street property reaches monthly several hundred dollars. On the other hand, overhead in taxes and upkeep is to be reckoned. Business is encroaching upon the site. There are those who favor abandoning the present club home and seeking a new location. Others see reasons for tearing down the building and constructing a more commodious one. There are other alternatives which are being talked of. Tuesday's meeting will be a preliminary discussion.

The important business will be preceded by a parliamentary law drill under the leadership of Mrs. Claude Hamilton Mitchell, curator. All Ebell women are eligible to the section which deals with the subject upon which they are expected to be well informed. More than thirty members are meeting regularly for study.

Plans for the entertainment of the first annual convention of Alameda County Federation of Women's Clubs on Thursday, February 16, were completed this morning by officers and directors of Fruitvale Women's club meeting in executive session. An all day program and dinner given in the Fruitvale Congregational church, Fruitvale avenue and East Sixteenth street. Luncheon will be served at noon through the courtesy of the Ladies Aid Society. Edition of officers and reviews of federation work since its founding will occupy the morning session. In the afternoon Mrs. Katherine P. Edson will review her work at the Department Conference in Washington, D. C. A group of interpretative dances will be presented by Miss Naomi Allee, Miss Jennie Partridge, president of San Francisco Federation of Women's Clubs, will be guest at the convention. Mrs. L. R. Rosenberg of Hayward is president.

Frank Colbourn, commissioner of public health and safety, and Charles G. White will be the speakers before the Big Sisters' meeting in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium tomorrow afternoon. Colbourn will outline the activities of the fire, police and health departments. White will speak against the county division which is threatened at the election of Tuesday next. Mrs. Sidney Haslett, president, will preside.

Unemployment problems begin in their own neighborhood, according to the Cole school mothers, associated together in a parent-teacher association. To take care of its tragic results, fund will be raised at a benefit card party tomorrow night for which Mrs. Walter Kendall is opening her home at 1218 Union street.

Domestic science students are engaged in a series of lessons through a lack of proper utensils, it is said. The parent-teacher association is promising to remedy the defect by the proceeds from a Valentine Dance, announced for Friday, February 17, in the school auditorium. Young and old are invited.

Seventy-five dollars for Oakland's needy was the result of a community party given Monday night for which three adjoining houses in the Fruitvale district were opened. Fruitvale Women's club may claim some of the honors of the occasion. Mrs. F. W. S. Brooks, her daughter, Mrs. O. F. Hermann, and her son, W. S. Brooks, sponsored the triple benefit which had their residences for the setting. Donated smokes were sold at profit. A country store, a ricket dance and program of music kept the neighborhood guests entertained.

The pros and cons of county division will be discussed before the living issues section of Ebell tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. A. S. Lavenson, representing those favoring breaking up the present unit of county government, and Carlos G. White, opposing such action, will be the speakers. An open discussion will follow, according to announcement. All Ebell women have been asked to attend the important program. Mrs. Louis P. Cockcroft is curator of the hostess section.

FURNITURE MEN HONOR BREUNER

Louis F. Breuner, president of the John Breuner Company of Oakland, has been elected first vice-president of the Retail Furniture Dealers of America, at the convention of that organization being held this week in Grand Rapids, Mich., according to word received here today.

W. H. Owen, furniture dealer of Detroit, was elected president for the coming year. Breuner was the only officer chosen from the western states. He is the organizer of the California Furniture Dealers' Association, and from the first meeting called by Breuner and attended by six persons, the organization has grown to a body with a membership of more than 300.

It is in recognition of his work in organizing the state association, of which he was the first president, that he was chosen an officer in the national body.

MINISTER TELLS OF RIO GRANDE

From the land of the Rio Grande, "the stream that is so small that any bootlegger, thank God, can wade across it," came Rev. Fuller Swift, Episcopal pastor of El Paso, who addressed the Progressive Business Men's club yesterday.

Rev. Dr. Swift chose as his subject "The Narcissistic Mind in Business." Illustrating with anecdotes his idea that it is better business to flatter or to cater to the narcissistic mind than to attempt to force an argument.

"In Texas we have not the largest ocean on the Pacific Coast, as a sight-seeing bus man told me, to boast of, but we have the Rio Grande," said Dr. Swift. "This wonderful stream, so narrow that you can spit through your teeth across it, and so small that any bootlegger, thank God, can wade across it, is the pride of our life."

The luncheon meeting which Dr. Swift addressed was held in the new Antlers garage at 1522 Harrison street in honor of the new members, C. Law and J. K. Hicks, the proprietors. The luncheon was served by George Karoly of the Venus confectionery. The guests danced to the music of a jazz orchestra.

A number of the literary club of El Paso, Dr. Swift is spending his vacation in this city.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young. To do this you must have a liver that works—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—acne—blisters look in your face—full eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 20c.—Advertisement.

Russ Still Steal Relief Foodstuffs

MOSCOW, Feb. 2.—Threats of goods from Russian railways are so extensive that M. Djerjinsky, the Pole who now directs the railway administration, asserts that it will be necessary to establish a special police force to stamp it out.

The American relief administration is protected against theft by special guards and the Bolshevik government makes good all losses of American foodstuffs. But even the knowledge that detection probably will mean death has not prevented thieves from stealing American supplies.

One third of your life is allotted to sleep. Do you get your share?

The most important period in the process of applying nutrition to the repair of the body is while you are asleep. For the most favorable transformation of digested food into nerve and cell tissue, so doctors tell us, sleep is absolutely essential.

Is it any wonder that those who suffer from lack of proper sleep are weak, pale and lacking in energy or ambition?

One of the causes of insomnia is nerve-irritation from tea and coffee drinking. Tea and coffee both contain caffeine, which has a tendency to cause undue stimulation. The irritating effect of caffeine often results in insomnia, depression, and a weakened nervous system.

You can easily overcome these troubles by drinking Postum instead of tea or coffee. Postum is a delicious, satisfying cereal beverage, and it is absolutely free from caffeine, or any other harmful substance.

Ask your grocer for Postum. Drink this delicious, refreshing beverage for ten days. Then see if you do not feel better and more clear headed, and if you do not sleep better at night—as so many other people have proved for themselves.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Abandonment of Site Near Campus Causes Dismissal of Actions.

Formal abandonment of the University of California's plan to locate the proposed million dollar stadium adjacent to the southwest corner of the campus, was marked today by the dismissal in the superior court of the thirty-five condemnation suits by means of which the necessary property was to have been acquired.

The suits, which were instituted against more than a hundred owners and trustees of thirty-five parcels of land in the neighborhood of Bancroft way and Atherton street, Berkeley, were filed September 26 of last year. They were assigned to superior Judge Harris court but had not yet come to trial when the records of the university, who were named as plaintiffs in the suits, disclosed their abandonment of their at-

EXECUTION WITH GAS ATTACKED AS BEING CRUEL

CARSON CITY, Nev., Feb. 2 (By International News Service).—The United States Supreme Court probably will be called upon to determine whether death by lethal gas as provided by statute in this state is a penalty for murder is "cruel and unusual."

This developed today as the death watch was placed on Gee Jon and Hughie Sing, Chinese assassins, who murdered a companion in a long feud last year and who are condemned to die by lethal gas during the week of April 16 to 22. Their counsel prepared an appeal.

It is expected that to meet the issue respecting the character of the punishment the prison board will order plans prepared and adopted. A hermetically sealed cell with a glass front and having pipes for the entrance and exit of the deadly gas is contemplated, but the plans may be limited to a helmet, securely adjusted and containing the deadly agency ready for release on the turning of an external valve.

Numerous protests from residents of the affected area and other parts of Berkeley, followed the filing of the suits, on the ground that the establishment of an athletic stadium did not warrant condemnation proceedings against residence property.

MELLON SAYS TAXES OUGHT TO FURNISH BONDS

Reiterates Belief Plan to Pay
Compensation From Debt
Impracticable.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The soldiers' bonus should be paid out of special taxes, such as increased first and second class postage and tobacco levies, Secretary Mellon declared today before the House ways and means committee.

Mellon reiterated his belief that it would be impracticable to depend upon the foreign debt for financing the proposed "five way" adjusted compensation plan because the revenue from that source is problematical.

These estimates of revenue from special sources were made by the secretary:

On cent increase in first class postage, $70,000,000.

Increased second class postage to wipe out deficits in that branch of the postoffice department, $30,000,000.

A tax of two cents on each bank check, $30,000,000.

A license tax of 50 cents a horsepower on automobiles, $100,000,000.

The total estimated return from those taxes was $306,000,000. Mellon said the bonus would cost $223,000,000 a year for the first two years, and told the committee that it would extend the list of taxable sources to make up the deficiency. He made it clear that he was not recommending any of the adjusted compensation plan, but that he was recommending a general sales tax on the ground of the cost and difficulty of administration.

AUTO PARTIES IN CAJON PASS ARE STILL SNOWBOUND

Twenty Motorists Believed
Marooned in Mountains
Near San Bernardino.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 2.—Belief was expressed here today that possibly twenty persons were still snowbound in the Cajon Pass and Hesperia regions.

All are believed to have taken refuge in cabins.

County authorities have sent in supplies to the various cabins in the pass. Trailbreakers on skis opened the way.

None of those snowbound are thought to be in danger.

The snow was fast melting today. Although the road is blocked with eight-foot drifts in some places, it is believed that in another 24 hours all those who have taken refuge in the various cabins will be able to make their way out again.

Cajon Pass is the gateway through the San Bernardino mountains to the east.

The Confessions of a Wife

Dear Milford
My conscience has been hunting me. Last Wednesday afternoon while you were here I deceived you—and I've made up my mind to square myself. You admired my carpets and thought they were new—and I let you keep right on thinking it. They are not new. They're the old carpets I had in the flat in Pasadena Terrace re-dyed and made over by the F. Thomas Process. Please forgive me for

Catarrh Of The Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken For Indigestion—How to Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furrowed, coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling and gurgling, bitter eructations, gas, wind and stomach acidity and call it indigestion. In reality the trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and coated with a slimy substance. The surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest it. The food then passes on to the small intestine, where it causes a deadly disease in the fermented, unassimilated food, the blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bismarck Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucus from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach while the Bismarck Magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Bismarck Magnesia is a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that is in your stomach and sweeten its food contents. Easy, natural digestion without distress of any kind soon follows. Bismarck Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bismarck Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates, etc., but get it in the pure Bismarck form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose. Advertisement.

The food then passes on to the small intestine, where it causes a deadly disease in the fermented, unassimilated food, the blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bismarck Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucus from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach while the Bismarck Magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and

GARBAGE DUMP FOR EMERGENCY NEEDED BY CITY

Old Site At Seventy-Seventh Ave. Sold and New Location Must Be Found.

Lost—One large and commodious garbage dump.

This is no joke. It is serious. Superintendent of Streets George Mattis reports that unless the city can secure some lot in far East Oakland for a garbage dump, garbage may have to be hauled across the city.

The trouble started when the Coast Manufacturing company, owners of the land at the foot of Seventy-seventh avenue, which has been used by the city for a dump, gave notice that the land has been sold to the E. B. and A. L. Stone company for improvement. Mattis immediately sought the land alongside, but this also has been annexed by the Stone company.

The old Seventy-seventh avenue dump has been used for years. It has been a great convenience to East Oakland, except to those who caught the smell. The land, however, was only used by the city on surfface. It was not owned by the city.

"We will have to find a new site quickly," says Mattis. "Otherwise we are going to have an East Oakland garbage problem." Mattis is now scouting for a new site.

SCRAMBLED JAZZ IS BANISHED BY NEW AIR RULES

To prevent the atmosphere from being "cluttered up" with wireless music, news bulletins, speeches and sermons, which are often broadcasted by amateur wireless telephone operators not licensed as radio commercial stations, orders have been received by the Federal Bureau of Investigation from Washington preventing broadcasting by these non-licensed stations.

The order is the outgrowth of what was known as the Pacific Plan for regulating amateur radio traffic adopted at a conference representative of 25 radio clubs which met in San Francisco in December.

From today on only radio stations specially licensed, like commercial establishments, may broadcast news, music and the like. The new order will eliminate the duplication of such stunts as the playing of jazz music during a church sermon, as occurred at the recent demonstration of the TRIBUNE's wireless, when the sermon of Rev. H. A. Van Winkle was interrupted for a few moments by the playing of jazz music.

The TRIBUNE's wireless telephone, operated by P. D. Allan, wireless expert, who conducts a wireless school at the Hotel Oakland, is a licensed commercial establishment. News bulletins are broadcasted every evening at 7:15 o'clock.

GRANT'S PAROLE PAPERS ARE DUE HERE ON SUNDAY

Release of Banker From San Quentin To Follow Receipt of Certificate By Warden.

Parole papers, which will provide liberty for William C. Grant, former assistant cashier of the defunct National Bank of Santa Rosa, now serving sentence following his conviction on embezzlement charges, are expected to arrive at San Quentin Sunday. This announcement was made today by James A. Johnston, warden of the penitentiary.

Grant's petition for parole was approved Tuesday by United States Attorney General Daugherty, and the following telegram has been received by Warden Johnston from Superintendent of Federal Prisons Votaw:

"Attorney general has approved parole of W. C. Grant. Prisoner may be released upon arrival of his certificate."

Johnston said that the certificate would probably reach the prison Sunday.

Grant's parole was due mainly to the efforts of his wife, who has worked ever since his incarceration to secure his release. Her activities caused her a serious physical breakdown and for several weeks recently she was in the Meritt hospital near death. During this time Grant, in the custody of a guard, was allowed to visit the hospital and see his wife, who, it was then believed, was dying.

PLANS FOR ROYAL WEDDING NEAR COMPLETED FORM

Lord Chamberlain Is Commissioned to Draw Up Sketch of Nuptials.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Arrangements for Princess Mary's wedding to Viscount Lascelles at Westminster Abbey the last week in February are beginning to take form.

The Lord Chamberlain, the Duke of Atholl, has been commissioned by the king to draw up a sketch of the proposed ceremonial and the State Chamberlain, Sir Douglas Dawson, will prepare the program.

The sending out of 2,000 invitations is the task of the Ceremonial Department at St. James' Palace. A fortnight's notice is usually considered sufficient for such occasions.

The king and queen, as a rule, invite personally their own relatives from abroad.

Not all the guests at Westminster Abbey will be able to see the wedding ceremony, for the choir and the transepts will be set apart for the royal family, the diplomatic corps, personal friends of the viscount and princess and the members of the royal household and suites.

The wedding will be solemnized by the Archbishop of Canterbury, or in his absence, by the Archbishop of York.

A wedding reception will probably be held in the ballroom at Buckingham Palace, at which the famous royal gold plate service will be displayed.

The confectionery for all the state functions is made by the confectioners at the palace and it is presumed they will make the wedding cake.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Chesterfield House, the future London home of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, is in the hands of the upholsterers. The interior is being entirely re-decorated and a beginning has been made with the great ballroom, which is being re-glazed.

Princess Mary's boudoir will be partly furnished with her own art treasures from Buckingham Palace.

Her wedding ring will be made in London of gold obtained from a small mine in Wales, which also produced the gold for Queen Mary's wedding ring.

The bride's "got-g away" hat is being made at Luton, from the finest Dunstable straw by one of the very few hand plaiters left in that district, who are skilled in the art.

He was identified in his professional capacity with the Panama-Pacific International Exposition and with the San Diego Exposition. Cantilever Shoe

You Wouldn't Keep Your Foot in Splints

Even when you have to wear splints for broken bones, the doctor removes them as soon as possible. If he didn't the muscles would eventually atrophy.

When you wear a shoe with a stiff shank, it's just as if your arch were bound against a splint. But when you wear the Cantilever Shoe, the flexible arch of your shoe, though it gives support, bends with the arch of your foot. The muscles are encouraged to exercise and grow strong, and flat feet are prevented and corrected.

The wonderful feeling of ease in Cantilever Shoes is partly due to the natural inner sole-line. Partly to the proper placing of the heels. But chiefly, it is because Cantilevers are made to accommodate the human foot instead of being accommodated at the expense of the foot.

You'll like the styles, too. Fine leathers. Well-made shoes. Sizes up to 10. Widths AAAAA to E.

FRENCH FLIERS DECORATED BY HONOR LEGION

PARIS, Feb. 2.—Promotions in the Legion of Honor for aviation announced today include Clement Ader. He was made a commander. The French regard him as the first constructor of a flying machine.

Louis Bleriot was made an officer of the Legion.

The Wright Brothers, in December, 1908, made their first flight in a heavier-than-air machine. Bleriot is credited with having made a successful flight at Issy, France, in 1907, while Ader, in 1890, is said to have been the first man to make a flight in a monoplane.

S. F. Jeweler Aids In Trapping Thief

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Morris Lossman, jeweler, had a reputation several years ago as a thief taker. Twice his store on Market street was entered and as many times Lossman aided in the capture of the culprits. Recently he opened an establishment at 2652 Mission street. At midnight he heard a noise and saw vaguely the figure of a man attempting to enter. He slept at the back and has an extension telephone. He promptly notified the police. Officers arriving captured Charles Howard, 23 years old. He was charged with attempted burglary.

How Marguerite Clark landed a husband will prove of interest to every movie fan in Oakland. Marguerite tells about it through an interviewer in next Sunday's TRIBUNE Magazine. She went after a young man to force him to buy something and—

MARRIED BOMB WOMAN. Mrs. Margaret Taylor, 3531 Duane street, reported to the police that she took several drinks with a stranger in a soft drink parlor who robbed her of a diamond ring and $14. She told Police Inspectors Robinson and Alex Trotter that she met the man at Eighth and Clay streets.

75 VETERANS OF STATE AWARDED HOMES BY BOARD

Applicants For Farms Number Twenty-Five; Relief Work Speeded Up.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 2.—Awards for the purchase of seventy-five homes and twenty-five farms were made to wounded veterans by the State Veterans' Welfare Board.

The work of selecting the men most deserving of aid under the farm and home purchase act has been speeded up to such an extent that members of the veterans' board were confident that the 500 former service men who can be given assistance at the present time will have been named by the latter part of this week.

Members of the board are of the opinion that first homes will be purchased by the state for wounded veterans within ten days, although it is expected that it will be somewhat later before men can be placed on farms.

Investigations into the practicality and value of farms desired by the applicants will take considerably longer than similar examinations which will be made into the conditions of homes and home sites, it was decided by the board members.

Fully 75 per cent of the applications made by wounded men are for homes.

RECTIFICATION OF ALCOHOL FOR LIQUOR CHARGED

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEADERS WISE TO TRIM.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Bootleggers throughout the country are evolving a new industry—the rectification of denatured alcohol—prohibition officials said today, which probably will necessitate a complete revision of the government's system of distribution.

Reports have been received, it was said, that some of the government formulas for industrial alcohol lend themselves readily to rectification so that illicit liquor dealers are obtaining the denatured spirits under government permits and by various processes rendering it more or less drinkable.

Revision of the present permit systems now in vogue is understood to be under consideration with a view to checking any diversion of denatured alcohol into unlawful hands.

NOW DO MY WORK WITH EASE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N. Y.—"I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep nights and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly every one around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like."

The players actually travel around the bases as in an actual game, are governed by the same rules, and the result is just as uncertain as in a regular game. Can be played in-doors and out---your mother, dad, sister and brother will all enjoy the fascinating "PLAY BALL" game. Follow the "big league" schedule by playing "Play Ball" at home in the evenings.

Loans To Girl Are Sought By Admirer

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Eugene Cummings, 15 years old, and Marcel Stephan, 20 years her senior, were the center of attraction in the small claims court today when the latter endeavored to recover certain moneys advanced her, believing they were owed.

Justice of the Peace Barnett expressed the opinion that the $50 should be returned, but the girl's mother, Mrs. Sadie Cummings, who appeared at once, said she was willing to pay it and the party left the courtroom with the idea expressed by Eugene herself that she would go to work and pay the money very shortly.

Fountain Design Is Approved to Show the City's Appreciation

Plans for the erection of a memorial in commemoration of Oakland's dead, the monument to be placed on the City Hall plaza, were announced today by Oakland Post No. 1 of the American Legion, through its memorial monument committee. The plans for the memorial were drawn and modeled by Ashley & Evers, Oakland architects, and call for the erection of a monument on the Washington street side of the plaza. FATHER, SON ON OPPOSITE SIDES JOINT TRIAL LAW ATTACK PLANNED Announcing intention to carry to the Supreme court if necessary the question of the constitutionality of the "joint trial" law, attorneys for Peter Arias today seriously opposed his being brought to trial with Joaquin Ramos, Antonio Garcia and Jose Rodriguez for the murder of Mrs. Amanda Plankuchen. Under the joint trial law, passed by the last legislature and effective July 1, 1921, persons accused of the same crime, where testimony against them is identical, may be tried collectively and need not be tried separately. The intent of the law is to reduce costs of criminal prosecutions.

When Arias, Ramos, Garcia and Rodriguez were arraigned a week ago all pleaded not guilty to the charge, and at that time Arias served notice he would oppose any effort to try him at the same time the others were tried. The trial of the three men was set for February 13, the court continuing the case of Arias until today to permit attorneys to file a writ of habeas corpus. Today Arias case was again continued until February 9, when the court will rule whether he must be tried with the others.

All the accused men live in West Oakland, near the home of Mrs. Plankuchen, who was reputed in the neighborhood to have large sums of money and much valuable jewelry about the house.

Charles Hill, bellboy, Fred H. Adams, porter, and Raymond Howard, their companion, stole three fur overcoats, valued at $400 each, from the room of Benjamin S. Goldberg, a Los Angeles salesman, last November. Mrs. Hill, however, told Deputy District Attorney Earl Warren that her son and his two companions had left the coats with her in a box which she had opened. She had then returned them to Goldberg, she said.

Third Victim Dies In Logging Wreck

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 2.—Francis West, president of the Francis West Logging Company, died here today. West is the third victim of the logging train accident Tuesday afternoon when an engine and flat car dived through the bridge over the Nehalem river near Relevance, Oregon.

Taking the baby to a place of safety, Freda summoned his wife from the house and they watched the fire spread. So rapidly did the fire spread that flames blocked his way from the stairs from the second floor and he was forced to jump from a window. He was uninjured. LETTER EXPLAINS REMOVAL OF M. D. FROM PALO ALTO

Major J. M. Wheate Unsympathetic Toward Veterans, Is Charge Made.

Details of the causes and complaints which brought about the removal of Major J. M. Wheate, commanding officer of the United States Public Health Service Hospital at Palo Alto, have been made known from Washington. The contents of a letter written by Major Louis T. Major Grant declared that Wheate was unsympathetic, and that his staff had also shown no inclination to be sympathetic to the wounded. Among other things, Grant charged that Wheate had issued an order preventing the patients from shaving themselves and from cutting one another's hair, compelling them to patronize a barber shop under a schedule of prices.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By moving the gray hair disappears after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, shiny and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

HAYWARD

HAYWARD, Feb. 2.—One alleged bootlegger's joint is closed today by action of the trustees, taken at their regular meeting last night. The proprietors, Manuel Joseph and Pete Cavaglia, are to be prosecuted by Town Attorney C. W. White. Jacob Harder, Jr., justice of the peace, has been appointed town recorder and will try the initial "bootleg" case under the local ordinance.

Harry Brown, lessee of the Occidental hotel, has been cited to appear before the board on Wednesday evening, February 15, to answer to the accusations of Deputy Marshal Joseph Brandon, who reported the sale of liquor on the Occidental premises on New Year's morning. The board has pledged itself to a "clean-up" campaign, such as has never been seen in Hayward. "They must tell go," says Mayor Arthur Munter. "I don't believe in half-way measures. We've started this, now let's finish it."

Events moved rapidly at the board room last evening following the introduction of the evidence in the Joseph case and the report of Marshal Fred Schilling with regard to conditions found upon raiding the Cavaglia bar. The report of Deputy Marshal Brandon with regard to the Occidental was unheeded and the citation of Brown authorized. The resignation of Judge Frank Mitchell as town recorder was filed and Harder appointed at a salary of $25 a month. Town Attorney White was authorized to draw up a complaint against Joseph and Cavaglia and prosecute the case under the local "little Volstead act" with all possible despatch.

Routine matters of business were laid over till the next meeting of the board. A discussion of the town hall suit closed the session.

GIRL IS EXONERATED.
HAYWARD, Feb. 2.—Miss Bertha Barden, an employee of the Verry company of Hayward, has been completely exonerated of the alleged theft of $400 worth of Liberty bonds belonging to Miss Rose Walker, a guest at the Verry home on B street, according to local officials today. Miss Barden was accused of the theft on Monday and Hayward officers were called upon to make an investigation. The bonds were subsequently found at the home of a sister of Miss Walker in Sausalito.

The girl has attracted considerable attention here, owing to the fact that the detention of Miss Barden by the police was made while she was on duty at the Verry confectionery Monday noon. J. T. Verry, her employer, firmly believing in the innocence of Miss Barden, tendered every aid to the local officer in clearing up the alleged crime. CHINESE GO INTO HIDING TO AVOID DEATH BY FOES

Prosecution of Young Chinese For Alleged Murder Results in Reprisals.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Members of the Chinese Jue family are in hiding today following the receipt of death threats, which came yesterday as a grim reminder of the murder of Harry Jue, slain because of his love for Lilly Chiu, a Chinese maiden.

Under indictment on charges of murdering Jue, Chin Sen Foo and Chin Shung, sons of Chin Yen, one of the three richest Chinese in San Francisco, are held in the county jail at Fairfield today awaiting trial. The original charges against them were dismissed a few days ago, but they were immediately re-arrested and indictments were subsequently voted upon by the Solano county grand jury as a result of the "love murder."

Intimated at their arrest, members of the Chin family are said to have sent word broadcast to "get" the persons responsible for the death of their son. Death threats were directed at the Jue family.

THE NAVAL TREATY.

"Desiring to contribute to the maintenance of the general peace, and to reduce the burdens of competition in armament, * * * have resolved, with a view to accomplishing these purposes, to conclude a treaty to limit their respective naval armament, and to that end have appointed as plenipotentiaries."

This is a part of the preamble of what has every appearance of being one of the most important agreements ever concluded between nations. It introduces the five-power agreement for the reduction and the future limitation of naval armaments and for a holiday in naval building. By this pact the United States, Great Britain, France, Japan and Italy enter upon the most specific and detailed undertaking to regulate the strength of their respective navies.

Secretary of State Hughes stated the significance of this agreement admirably when he said before the plenary session of the Washington conference yesterday:

"Obviously it means an enormous saving of money and the lifting of very heavy burdens from the people."

"This treaty absolutely ends the race in competitive naval armament. At the same time, it leaves the security of the powers unimpaired, but it means more. The best thing is the spirit manifested by which we were able to reach this conclusion."

"We are taking the greatest forward step to establish the reign of peace."

Concretely, the five-power treaty provides for a naval holiday, for the abandonment of all capital ships now in course of construction, for reduction of existing capital ship strength by the destruction of certain specified older ships, and the regulation of new building, after the expiration of the naval holiday, by the principle of sustained relative strength among the naval powers.

When in the winter of 1913-14 Mr. Winston Churchill proposed to the German government that England and Germany decree a holiday in warship construction he was rebuffed with gruff scorn. Today the five nations maintaining the largest navies in the world agree not only to a vacation in warship construction, but scrap some of the most powerful battleships naval architects have designed.

The race of competitive naval armament is in truth ended for the present.

In entering into this agreement America retains her position as a first class naval power. The capital ship strength is to be equal to that of the next greatest power, Great Britain. The effective strength of the Japanese navy is to be sixty per cent of that of the United States and France and Italy, thirty-five per cent.

Briefly, the arrangements give America adequate naval defenses while stopping competitive building. It gives us a well-balanced navy, the long-standing aim of the naval experts.

POISON GAS OUTLAWED.

Another important agreement reported yesterday at the plenary session of the Washington conference pledges the same five powers signatory to the naval treaty to abolish poison gas in warfare and to prohibit submarine attacks on merchant vessels.

The aim of this agreement is to make modern war a little less inhuman and revolting. Poison gas was the supreme villainy of the recent war. The prospects are that it never will be used again. Submarines are to be prohibited from attacking merchant vessels because of their inability to make adequate provision for the safety of noncombatants, including women and children.

These reforms in the methods of warfare are a sign of a return to the chivalrous impulse, of a desire to retain even in war something of the refining influence of civilization. They are calculated to constitute some restraint against reversion to the ferociousness of brutes.

Investigation has resulted in the charge that engineering and cheap construction was responsible for the Knickerbocker theater disaster in Washington, where over 100 lives were snuffed out under a collapsed roof. This verifies the Tribune's assumption. Humanity always is paying heavy penalties to deficient knowledge and ruthless profiteering.

When the truth is evaded. The peculiar tactics of the proponents of county division and the newly-devised charter, while perfectly understood by many, must be puzzling to the great bulk of the citizens. They are very unusual. They are not customary on the part of honest public pleaders.

WHEN THE TRUTH IS EVADED.

Twenty days ago the Alameda County Anti-Division League published figures showing that the minimum tax rate for a city and county of Oakland, in which all city and county functions of government would be saddled on Oakland, would be $5.43, as compared to the present combined city and county rate of $1.91. These figures were compiled by experts and had been checked by a certified public accountant. They were presented with the commendable purpose to give the citizens the exact truth.

As a means of bringing about agreement on established facts the anti-division league made the proposal that the Oakland Charter League, which is pressing the scheme for county division, appoint an expert to join with an expert named by the anti-division league to make a combined check of these figures. It was further proposed that in the event these two experts could not agree on the facts that a third expert be called in as referee to determine points in dispute.

This eminently fair and public-spirited suggestion has been ignored by the leaders of the scheme for county division. Twenty days have passed since the challenge was made. Nearly a month intervened between the date of the challenge and election day, so the advocates of division cannot plead lack of time. Yet they have refused to co-operate with an effort to eliminate all disputes on facts and figures of alleged savings or certain increases in government costs.

Instead of adopting the course which the public had every right to expect, the division leaders have resorted to weak denials in one instance, or petty sniping in another, or the offering of fictitious figures in other instances.

Fortunately for the position of the defenders of county unity, there were several questions of veracity raised in the campaign preceding the election of November 15th. The advocates of the new scheme said division was not an issue, that the proposed charter was not an issue, that Berkeley, Alameda and other outside communities would not vote against the proposal. The election and subsequent events have decided all these issues of veracity which the division plotters raised against the plotters and in favor of the anti-division workers. Thus the reputation for reliability and honest purpose of the anti-division league and its coadjutors must be incomparably better than that of those who are attempting to break up the continental side into three or more counties and to shoulder the whole expense of county government upon Oakland.

The voters must rely upon those whose word has been vindicated by deeds. They must hesitate to accept the word of those who have been convicted of insincerity and misrepresentation, who continue to evade an impartial decision on the facts.

The rate of $5.43, which experts have established as the minimum rate possible under the proposed charter, is the minimum rate possible. It represents an increase of 52 cents over the present combined city and county rate of $1.91.

Vote against this tax rate. Vote against the disintegration of the great Eastbay district. Vote against the destruction of the merit system in municipal government and the turning of the public school system over to the control of the politicians.

AS SIR GILBERT MURRAY PUTS IT.

Supporters of the League of Nations will derive small comfort from Sir Gilbert Murray's criticism of Premier Lloyd George for the latter's palpable disregard of the machinery of the League when he issued his call for the Geneva Conference. Professor Murray takes the British Premier severely to task for seeking to put through his program for the economic reconstruction of Europe without first giving the League an opportunity to try its hand at the problem. No valid reason exists, he maintains, why the League should not have invited the United States, Germany and Russia to a conference having for its object the economic rehabilitation of Europe. This, he insists, could and should have been done.

"Before throwing the League over," declares Professor Murray, "I feel that prudent statesmen would have made sure not only that certain nations would refuse to attend the conference, but also that they would consent to attend a non-League conference. No one knows if America will attend, at least not for the purpose for which the League is especially called. Consequently to all appearance the League has been publicly thrown over, and its authority shattered for no very decisive countervailing purpose."

Others beside the distinguished Oxford professor hold precisely the same view. The facts in the case lead logically to his conclusions. It is obvious that the economic reconstruction of Europe is necessary if Europe is again to become normal; it is no less evident that in the accomplishment of this end the Geneva conference, or one of the same general purposes, is all but indispensable. Yet oddly enough in this juncture in European affairs, few persons seem to have given more than a passing thought to the League of Nations, perhaps not even that the very organization that was to herald the dawning of a new era of international co-operation. That responsible statesmen have been so slow in conscripting the services of the Geneva League shows the appraisal which those nearest the League put upon its practical worth.

Instead of passing strictures upon Premier Lloyd George for bounding the call for the Geneva conference, Professor Murray ought, rather, to have praised him for not giving the overburdened League another burden to carry. When he wants results the British Premier does not go to Geneva for them.—Boston Transcript.

DAILY ALMANAC

Thursday, February 2.

This is Ground Hog Day. . . It is also Candlemas Day. . . Curtis Guild, governor of Massachusetts, was born in 1860. . . Sir Owen Tudor died in 1461 and Giovanni di Palestrina in 1594. . . Sir William Phipps, colonial governor of Massachusetts, born 1651. . . It was a great day for the Sir. . . In 1812 Delia S. Bacon, originator of the Bacon-Shakespeare controversy, was born. . . A patent was issued for Arctic gaiters in 1828, but no one ever thought the girls would go about with them unbuckled as they are doing now in the East. . . Farragut sailed from Hampton Roads for the Mississippi River in 1852.

The ground hog came out of his hole early this morning. Out where the ground hog apartments are, the snow is still on the ground, there is a crackle in the morning air and all of the landscape wears crust. As the ground hog emerged, the Nature club representative was on hand to mark down what he said and how he acted. We never get to the bottom of this old story and today, we figured, was as good a time as any.

When the ground hog stuck his nose into the frosty air first thing he saw was a snow man. "I'll not say my rent," said the ground hog, "until you furnish me more heat. The idea of your calling around to ask for money after serving me the way you have!" The ground hog was indignant and, because of his long sojourn under the ground, a bit short-tempered. He retired a short distance in the hole and listened.

"Go on, clear out!" he yelled, as he sneaked his nose out again. "I won't have you hanging around here any more. When you give heat to your bum old apartments, then call for the rent." And the ground hog was gone.

As we listened at the mouth of the hole we could hear him scrambling down. "There, there," he muttered. "I'm blamed if I didn't forget to look for my shadow. Well, I won't go out again with that fellow hanging about." The Nature club has decided that, in view of the ground hog's mistake concerning the snow man, there is no one who can say what the weather will be for the next six weeks.

The time of year is approaching when baseball umpires start their annual dodging practice.

Despite the fact that the statutes in Turkey allow a man four wives, there are many who have but one. More and more it is apparent that the Turks have no respect for the law.

A Slight Affair.

(From Reading Searchlight.)
Two leading Redding physicians, club men, fraternalists and members of the chamber of commerce, had a slight altercation yesterday in the street following a slighting remark that led to rattled and then to three knockdowns. There seemed to be but slight advantage on either side, and the injuries received by the belligerents were regarded as slight. There is said to have been a slight difference of opinion over the local award of medical practice by the railroad company.

"Education week is planned in the schools." Well, a week of it is something.

Results of a questionnaire at an eastern college for girls is illuminating. The women in the freshmen class, to a question, "How much should a man be making before he marries?" placed the figure at twenty thousand. Those in the senior class answered that two thousand was enough. It is easy to see just how much these women learned while in college.

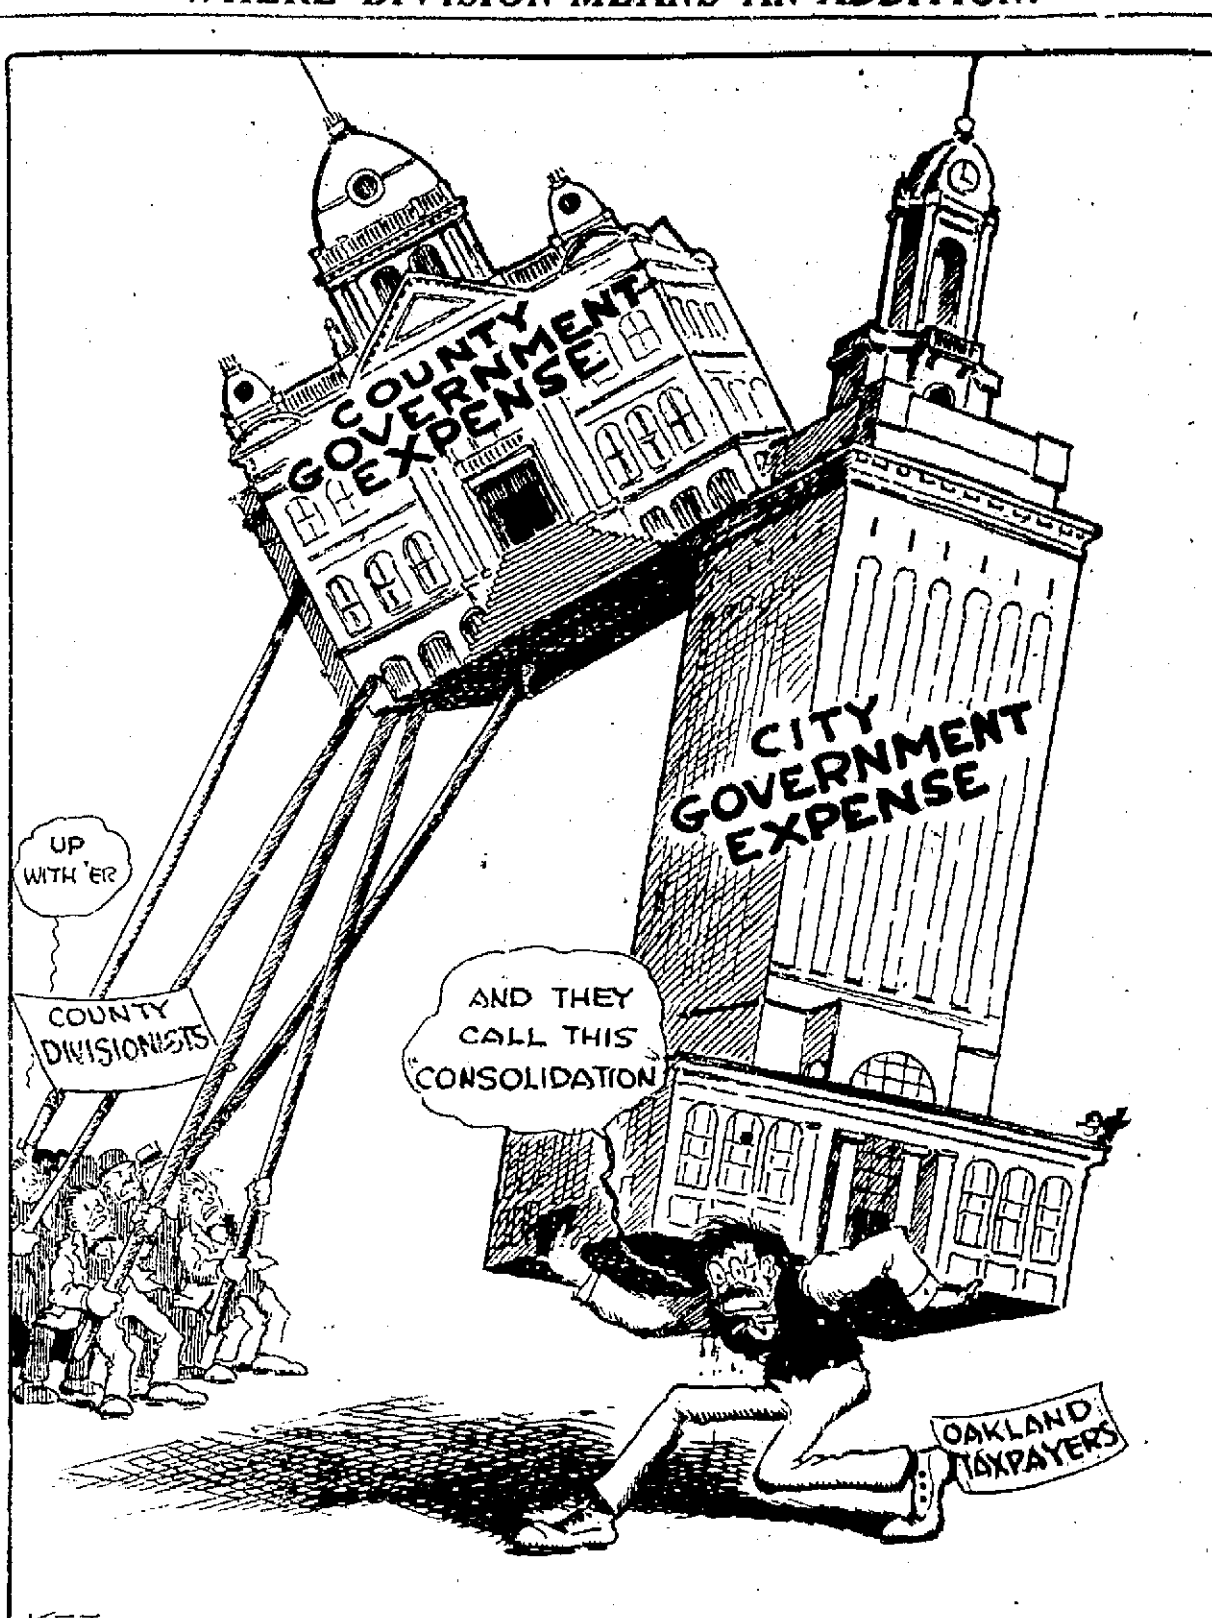

"Rice Men on Firm Footing" says headline. Must be the swamps are frozen.

Dear Sir: Now this is a true yarn. It was when I was running North to Coos Bay, we had fine weather all the way but as we were nearing port we noticed that several steamers were standing off the bar. On taking a peek through my glass I noticed a constant spray, as though the bar were breaking. Now for the kind and weather we were having this seemed very unusual, you could almost say it was a phenomenon. Nothing was said on the bridge except a few cuss words about our luck of being bar bound and what a good chance we had of losing our Thanksgiving dinner at home. We finally joined company with other ships, and to our amazement we found that the bar was not breaking. It was just simply a school of whales playing around the entrance of the harbor. They were so close that it gave one the impression of a breaking bar and no one dared take the chance of going in because a whale sometimes is an awful hard customer to battle with, also the constant spray flying dimmed the channel so one was not sure just how to head the vessel, so there we were. Our passengers thought the whole thing was wonderful and even asked us if the bar had been gotten up for their special show. The strangest part came when a little fishing boat went out among these playing mammals. Why, sir, the whales opened a way for the spaghetti ship and when he passed through they formed a line four abreast and followed him to sea. This cleared the entrance and we formed a parade of our own into the bay.—SALT.

There is an information girl, across the bay, who has been in this country but a short time. It is surprising how much she has learned, etc., but the point is, the other day, someone asked her a technical question having to do with motors and she said, "I do not know," she purred, "but, why do you not ring up an automobile man?" Ring up Willie Knight.

WHERE DIVISION MEANS AN ADDITION.

NOTES and COMMENT

The definition by Miss Bentley, formerly of California but now of Chicago, of a flapper isn't bad, though her count of 2000 flappers at the U. C. is likely to be questioned. She classifies a flapper as "a youthful female, beautiful externally, blue internally, superficially intelligent, imitative to a high degree," with a habit in the bathroom, on the boulevard and in a high-powered motor car. It seems to be a fact, however, that there are flappers who exist in less exalted spheres.

The proposition of the New York police, to use tear bombs in capturing criminals, is quite novel. The theory of course is that criminals will be so busy trying to get away from their escape that they can't effect their escape. There would seem, however, to be a considerable handicap in the necessity for officers to wear gas masks in applying the new device.

Fraternal organizing proceeds at Bedford, according to the Mail-Tribune: "A chapter of the Loud Nose Blowers of America will be formed here at once. No one not able to knock himself down with the smart will be admitted to membership. The Imperial Naval Blast will arrive next week to pick out a Worshipful Foghorn for the local organization."

The protest of the Merchants' Association of San Luis Obispo against the granting of further franchises to stage lines is an indication of a realization that it will not be good commercially to hamper the regularly established lines of transportation any further. The day has gone past when doing things to merely hurt railroads is regarded as commendable. The fly-by-night proposition is not admirable in any line of endeavor.

Well, now, there is this: "The Oakland Tribune gives to itself a lawyers."

Is the world getting better? Sure it is. Since 1907 a conscience fund of $1164.87 has been sent to the Southern Pacific railroad company in San Francisco from persons who stole rides on trains. Nobody can think of anyone who, previous to 1907, didn't think it something of a virtue to beat the railroads in California.—Stockton Record.

FAITH IN THE PRESIDENT.

There is apparently no drop in the confidence of the people in the Armament Conference, even though there is a perceptible slowing up in proceedings. But there has been a strange falling away recently of that eager interest of a few weeks ago. The despatches tell of friction here and misunderstandings there, but no one is greatly disturbed. The public seems to bear the skirmishes and shouts of poor American team play through a muffled atmosphere, like that in a snow storm. The clashes do not resound.

One reason for this is clear. It is in the growing belief of the American people in President Harding, in the increasing hope that under his leadership, somewhat halting at times, perhaps, the world will find peace. His course in regard to his "error" in interpreting the text of the Pacific treaty has been so simple and taken so clearly without regard for appearance that it adds to rather than detracts from the high opinion in which he is held. In the words of the man on the street: "Yes, you feel that Mr. Harding is a good man."—Worcester Telegram.

About YOUR HEALTH

Just What Pleurisy Is and Some of Its Variations.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.
Consulting Physician, Health
New York City.

Just inside your chest wall, on the inner side of your ribs, is a large area, which is lined with a delicate membrane called the "pleura." Suspended in this cavity are the lungs, which are covered with a closely-applied membrane. This lung-covering is also pleura. The chest-lining and lung-covering are like two pieces of silk cloth, fitting closely together, but yet entirely separate and distinct from each other.

The whole pleural membrane is smooth and like a polished and glistening surface. Slight moisture makes it slippery, so that the lung portion may readily slide and glide over the chest wall membrane. In health, such contact is without friction and without sensation of any sort. Imagine a hollow globe to be lined with the smoothest kind of patent leather. Suspend in this sphere a ball covered with flexible and perfect patent leather. Apply enough oil Vio to moisten the leather, and you can imagine how perfect and uninterfered with would be the movements of one surface over the other.

In health, there is this smoothness and absence of friction. In disease, the pleura loses its lustre and becomes rough and granular. The secretion changes and becomes sticky, that the opposing membranes are glued together.

This condition is called "pleurisy." There are several forms of pleurisy. I shall not attempt to give you an accurate classification, which could serve no good purpose. In general, then, there is the plastic form of pleurisy, in which there are sharp cutting pains or stitches in the side. Usually there is a dry cough and pain in coughing. In this form there is no accumulation of fluid in the chest, so it may be called "dry pleurisy."

Another form is the exudative variety, in this there forms a thick and creamy fluid, which is spread over the pleural membranes. Then there comes into the pleural space a quantity of straw-colored fluid. The quantity may be small, or it may be so great in volume as to crowd the lungs and heart, as much sometimes as two or three quarts. The third form is given a special name, "effusion," or "purulent pleurisy." In this variety the fluid is found to be pus.

In a sense, these different forms are only stages or progressions of the same disease. It may be a mild attack, and stop in the first stage, plastic pleurisy. Or it may go on to form and exude. Then if pus infection takes place there may be an empyema.

Exposure to cold or wet may lower the resistance, and then any disease-producing germ present in the system may find its chance to develop inflammation.

WHAT DESSAUER SAW.

Unlike certain other distinguished foreign visitors, Professor F. A. Dessauer of Germany recently found America far from "wide open," provisionally speaking. During a five-day visit and frequent patronage of a dozen hotels, he saw liquor served only twice, and then secretly in empty rooms. His competence as an observer will, of course, be challenged by those who don't welcome that kind of evidence.—Springfield Republican.

Plants in Plaza Killed by Frost

Decorations Plans Set At Naught By Cold Weather;
Bulbs Are Dug Up.

Jack Frost has wrecked the plans for the City Hall plaza. Plants and bulbs, placed there two months ago and given tender care so that the city would bloom with colorful flowers in the spring, froze under the extreme cold weather and refused to grow. The carefully planned plaza decorations have had to be dug up, and entirely new plants have been set in.

Some of the bulbs came all the way from Holland. By this time, with luck, it was expected that they would be fairly grown; but the frost nipped their progress and they laid with green leaves just above ground, refusing either to grow or wilt. For more than a month there has not been one half-inch of progress. The new supply of plants, however, will make up for the damage. As a matter of cost, it is admitted that the frost was expensive, as it caused re-planting of thousands of costly plants.

RETALIATION ON U. C. NOT INTENDED

Question Propounded by Supporters of Division Given Quietly By Legislators; Bar-
rows Tells What It Means

A plan to make it appear as if those who oppose county division are fostering a scheme to "retaliate" on the University of California, if Oakland is separated from the rest of Alameda county was disclosed today when members of the legislative delegation were asked to put themselves on record in response to this question.

"If a city and county of Oakland is formed would you retaliate by voting against the University of California?"

The man who put the question, the editor of the divisionist newspaper, did not seek expression as to the effect of a change in viewpoint or an opinion concerning the relative values of a delegation of twelve before the university or a delegation of one or two.

NO RETALIATION.
Members of the Alameda county delegation, many of whom may not be members at the next session of the legislature, have never held in question of "retaliation," they replied today. Most of them believed, with President David P. Barrows of the university, that a delegation of twelve is of great value to the institution at Sacramento.

"If I have given the matter sufficient thought to be able to make a detailed statement," Dr. Barrows said, "but I am willing to be quoted to the effect that I realize the university received great assistance from the Alameda county legislative delegation, the eight assemblymen and four senators. I also realize that Berkeley as a separate city and county, would have only one senator and one or two assemblymen."

"As I look at it," said Assemblyman Homer Spencer, "it is a question of viewpoint. San Francisco went to Sacramento with a hundred bill, and Alameda county's delegation felt free to vote against it and did. County lines certainly do make a difference in view. It is ridiculous, however, to imagine that anyone might seek to retaliate on the university. I never heard the suggestion made before."

BACKED BY STATE.
Frank Anderson, assemblyman, put it as follows: "I feel that the entire state is behind the University of California, even the Southern California delegation, when it comes right down to it, but despite this present good feeling twelve votes for the university is better than just a few."

"You realize the value of a solid unit when you get into a jam. Only last season we had such a jam with Alameda county and the university lined up against Tehama county and

Challenge for Figures Still Dodged by Charter League

Twenty days have elapsed since the presentation by the Alameda County Anti-Division League, of figures carefully compiled by experts, and checked by William Dodge & Co., certified public accountants, showing that county division would result in a minimum tax rate of $5.43 on the $100, as against the present rate $4.91, an increase of 52 cents.

These figures show the taxpayers of Oakland receive $450,000 more each year than they pay into the county treasury. For instance:

In behalf of orphans and half orphans, the city of Oakland receives $57,400 per year in benefits more than it contributes in taxes. In assistance to indigents in their homes, the city receives $22,303 more than it pays.

Through use of tubercular sanitarium and infirmary, actual use, the Oakland benefit is $45,000 more than it pays. In school apportionment there is another large gain.

Likewise, through use of the receiving hospital, care of feeble-minded, county jail, detention home and Associated Charities, the saving to Oakland, because of the excess of benefits over taxes paid, is $14,350.

The statement also shows that Oakland, as a city and county, would have to maintain all of its present city functions and bear the whole burden of county expense.

According to a provision of the state law practically all of the county officers must be retained. The provisions of the charter open the door to unlimited expenditure through creation of new offices, departments and boards, and the employment of innumerable experts, deputies and clerks with salaries to be fixed by the manager or metropolitan council.

The Charter League has presented a statement from expert accountants saying they have checked over the figures of the Taxpayers' Association and that on them a certain saving "should be" made. The Anti-Division League, twenty days ago, made this proposition:

That the expert accountant of the Charter League go over the figures with the expert accountants of the Alameda County Anti-Division League, William Dodge & Co., and, if there is a conflict of opinion, the two select a third certified public accountant and that the agreement reached by the three experts be presented to the voters of Oakland in order that they may know what county division and the new charter scheme will cost the taxpayers.

If the Charter League is certain of its figures, why does it refuse this very fair proposition?

the agricultural station. Naturally the unit of twelve senators and assemblymen won out.

"For that reason it can readily be seen that the university will be hampered in representation by a small delegation despite the unanimity of opinion of the entire legislature on the value of the institution."

"Somebody called me up and asked me if I would retaliate on the University of California," said E. S. Hurley, assemblyman, "in case Berkeley voted for a separate city and county. Of course I would not. I do believe, however, that any man can recognize the value of a delegation of twelve to the Eastbay and to the university and think the thing is apparent."

BUY STAMPS IN OAKLAND IS CITY PLEA

$12,000 Gain in Receipts Will Put City in Million Class and Hasten New Building,
Says J. J. Rosborough

In a statement issued today urging the people of Oakland to buy stamps at the local office and not patronize postoffices in other cities, Postmaster Joseph Rosborough declared that a monthly increase of $12,000 in postal receipts would put the local office in the $100,000 class.

This means, the postmaster pointed out, that the city of Oakland would be in line for additional favors from the government and would do a great deal towards hastening the construction of the proposed new postoffice building.

Postmaster Rosborough announced that the Chamber of Commerce, realizing the advantages that the city would secure if the local office could be boosted into the $100,000 class, was soon to inaugurate a campaign to impress upon the public the necessity of purchasing stamps at the Oakland postoffice.

The city's postoffice now ranks in the $80,000 class. "If the postoffice can get in the $100,000 class," Rosborough said today, "it will mean a great thing for the city. It means that it will be recognized more readily by the government and make the rest of the country sit up and take notice, and will undoubtedly hasten the construction of a new building."

"This can be accomplished by a monthly increase of only $12,000 in postal receipts. I am convinced that this will result if the people of the city will only be more careful to purchase their stamps at the local postoffice."

Cancellation receipts at the postoffice yesterday were the largest in the history of the institution, with the exception of Christmas rush days, according to the postmaster. Yesterday's cancellation receipts totaled $230,285, while the average day's receipts are recorded at around $100,000. Rosborough believed that the coming city election is at least partially responsible for the increase in cancellation receipts.

$15,000 More Raised to Provide Jobs for Idle Men

Through the medium of a "pruning policy" in the city government, idle men at the municipal woodyard are to be put to work on the city roads for a short time.

In the interim the citizens' emergency employment and relief committee will make their plans to take over the work hitherto paid for by the city administration.

The city council yesterday approved $5000 which is to be obtained in the individual departments by observing a "system of rigid economy."

The citizens' committee has approximately $10,000 already collected from the public at large and this total, and of $15,000 will care for 200 men or two-day-a-week shifts at $3 per day.

In addition to making the new appropriation the council named the citizens' committee the official municipal employment agency and appointed the following executive committee to represent the city:

Tom Eaglesome, chairman; Leroy Goodrich, J. A. MacLafferty, R. A. Lee, Peter J. Crosby, Oliver Kehring, James Travess, Dr. W. B. Felt, Mountain and Mrs. R. E. Danford.

Meantime the tickets for the big charity ball to be given at the Hotel Claremont on Friday night, February 10, have been placed on sale. Volunteer workers canvassing the city in an endeavor to sell 10,000 tickets.

Girl employees of the city hall have organized a committee to assist in the sale of the tickets. The committee includes the Misses Kathleen O'Connor, Ruth Egan, Dorothy Brinsmade, Anna May, Adrianna Jongseneel, Frances Klinker, Alice Jones and Mrs. Anne Cox. Mrs. Anna Ryan and Mrs. Marie Goubrun.

The Blue Bird bureau of the TRIBUNE today came a letter from one of the unemployed asking assistance. The letter follows:

Editor THE TRIBUNE:—This is just another one of those appealing letters which you receive many of every day.

I never knew what it was to go out and look for work and not find it but it is so. I always worked steady but just made enough to get along from hand to mouth. I went to work in the shipyard in 1917 and was getting along pretty good until the big strike came along. At that time I had $100, but that did not last very long with a family.

When I started to go behind and bills got bigger all the time and rent went behind and after seven months with odd jobs I got a steady job. Then I was sent for at the shipyard and I made good money but it took me about a year to pay all the bills I made during the strike.

After that not owing any more bills I managed to save a little over

$400 LOST ON TAXI RIDE IS MAN'S CLAIM

After a wild taxi ride in the company of two men and two women to West Oakland during the early hours this morning, J. M. Harrington, connected with the Oakland branch of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, with offices in the First Savings Bank building, and who claims, police say, to be the son of the mayor of Butte, Mont., had his pockets picked of $400 in currency, checks and valuables, according to a report he made to police this morning.

Bill Horn, a former policeman, and chauffeur of the taxicab, drove Harrington and the two young women to police headquarters, where he reported the alleged robbery. As Horn was returning to his machine, he claims he found the checks in a side pocket of the taxi.

According to an elderly Harrington, told Police Inspectors William Haldeman and Louis Kirsch, he went to the Republic Cafe last night, where he met two men and two women. He said that they got a taxi and drove to an establishment in West Oakland. Harrington said that on their way back one of the men opened the door of the taxicab and jumped out and disappeared. Inspectors Haldeman and Kirsch, accompanied by Harrington, retraced the latter's steps and in front of an alleged bootlegging establishment in West Oakland, which Harrington said he had visited with the quartet, they found the wallet.

A Tribute to Moderation

It befell in the old days that a mob one night took a negro out of a county jail in Southern Kentucky and carried him just across the line into Tennessee. There they hanged him at the roadside. Merely hanging their victim did not satisfy the members of the mob. As he dangled they riddled him with bullets and then kindled a fire under him with intent to destroy the body.

By the light of the mounting flames somebody saw something stirring in a brush pile, close by the scene of execution. He kicked the brush away and dragged out an old colored man, who had been on his way home when he saw the lynchers coming. He had deemed it the part of prudence to take cover immediately. But as luck would have it, he had gone into retirement at the very spot where the mob halted to do its work.

Men poked big guns in his face and swore to take his life if ever he dared reveal what he had that night beheld. The old man protested that the whole thing was purely an affair of the white folks in which he had neither concern nor interest. All he craved to do was to hurry to his cabin and forget the entire transaction. He was quite sure that by daybreak of the following morning all memories of the night would be gone from his mind.

But the leader of the mob felt it incumbent to press the lesson home to the consciousness of the witness. Still casually cooking and uncorking a long pistol he flung a thumb over his shoulder toward the gallows-tree and said:

"Well, you know that black scoundrel yonder got what he deserved, don't you?"

The old man craned his neck about and gazed for a moment upon the grisly spectacle.

"Boss," he said fervently, "it looks lak to me he got off mighty light."

TWO SALESLADIES IN MILLINERY SHOP

Say, who'dye think you are, anyway? Mrs. Astor?

Why, waddy mean, Mrs. Astor?

You know what I mean, all right. Where do I get off getting sales when I spend all my time putting away the hats you scatter all over the place?

Who scatters hats, me?

Sure, you. That's all I've been doing all day, putting hats back that you scatter all over the place.

Well, I've gotta show hats if I'm gonna sell hats, don't I?

How about me? When do I get a chance to sell some hats?

Go ahead and sell them. What's to prevent you?

What's to prevent me? That's good. How am I gonna sell hats when I've gotta spend all my time putting yours away? Besides, if you used any judgment, I wouldn't have so many hats to put away, anyway.

Judgment? I use judgment.

Yes, you do.

I do. I use as much as you do, anyway.

D'ye think I'd trot all these hats out for that dame that just left? Not on your life. Couldn't you see she's just shopping around? She's one of them bargain hunters.

Well, we've got bargains, too, haven't we?

It's always the other fellow who sells them kind the bargains. Besides, lookit the things you showed her. Forty dollar hats for a five-dollar face.

Them's the kind that need forty dollar hats.

Yes, I know, but them's the kind that never has the forty dollars.

Oh, you know everything, don't you?

Well, I know more'n to waste my time showing dames like that one all the hats in the shop when I've got so little chance to sell 'em, anyway. But I suppose that needn't bother you so long as you have me to do your picking up after you.

Stop nagging about your old picking up. You don't do enough to hurt yourself.

If I did less of it I'd get more sales, I know that. Maybe you would and maybe you wouldn't.

Is that so? Hats? Right here, madam.

Yes, that's—now here's one of the newest things.

Claude's achievement as an athlete was to make a position on the varsity basketball team at the University of Nevada, being only a freshman at the Sagebrush college. Galmirino, while at Tech, cavorted on the basketball, baseball and track teams, his best work being done in the former sport. He was sub-twirlor on last season's ball team and did the sprints on the cinder path.

The championship in the National Division. The team that meets the Nationals in the semifinals will play for the championship of the entire bay district, as the TRIPUDN League has been the only one of its kind in an amateur organization and wound up the same way.

Winners Will Play Oak.

Should the Allendale Merchants win the championship in the National Division next Sunday, the following will be the lineup:

Coach high's next big hoop game will be staged tomorrow at the Tech gymnasium. The Tech team will take on the quintet representing Berkeley high. The Broadway Indians will be the most notable contender for the O. A. L. gonfalon and if Hanson presents his strongest line-up on the Berkeley basketball team, a hot and mighty tussle. The Purple and Golds will probably lineup as follows: Hanson, center; Fetter, center; Fetter, center, and Potter and Diehl, forwards.

Poplar supporters feel now that their chances of winning the Allendale in both games next Sunday is brighter than before. The rain and snow which caused the postponement has allowed Bill Plummer another full week in which to improve his health. So Bill, if he pitches, will be better fit to start on the hill next Sunday

Picking the Best Club between the Allendales and Poplars is a problem for anybody, and there is always room for an "and" in the matter of the Allendales. We have heard many a fellow mention the team he figured the best, but each of them started an argument when anybody else was around. These are the Alcoholics who believe in hitting club members in any of the Class A Divisions, and those believers are ones who are neutral.

Then again there are a lot who also feel the Poplars are a lot who also feel the hitters. I have seen many times some summer is on the hill for them. All in all it is not so much the hitting strength that counts most after the whole thing is over, but it is the staying held in the race. It has been a hard race for every club man at either position.

the American Division with one or two exceptions, and when the Poplars and Allendale take the field next Sunday at the Coast League Park it will be a fifty-fifty proposition as to who will win. In the first game the Poplars figure to be a favorite because they already hold a 7 to 2 lead in the sixth inning, but the second

Balanced Ball Club. In the infield, the Poplars are very strong with Charley (Lefty) Newman on first base, Manager Tommy Lynch, second, Al Vianla, short, and Langridge at third. That quartette of infielders are always the team's top defensive unit. The outfielders, which are also strong, consist of those that are least expensive. Maph and Lynch look like a million dollars around the keystone sack. Phil Gardner, who reports to the Oaks next spring, and "Sonny" Gallagher look after the Vianita and Safford, who are the first two out of the first class boys' softball team. They are also those when it comes to swinging the old fungo. Besides Bill Plummer for pitching duty, the Poplars have Karl Lamb, the youngster who is only 17 years of age, but has been fooling the heaviest hitters in the league, and Big John Hieolon, who is one of the smartest

SYNAGOGUE RAID
BY DRY AGENTS
BARED BY RABBI

Protest Made To S. F. Headquarters By Anglophone. Who Says Temple Desecrated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—While members of the congregation were at prayer, federal prohibition agents raided a Los Angeles synagogue, according to a complaint made here today by Rabbi Wolfe E. Goldberg. Rabbi Goldberg came from Los Angeles to protest to the federal prohibition headquarters against the alleged desecration of the temple.

In his complaint, Rabbi Goldberg stated that the raid was conducted by 10 federal agents.

It was said here today that Federal Agent Wheeler of Los Angeles had sent word to one of his agents, Miss Daisy Simpson, as a result of Wheeler's report and the raid upon the temple, 600 gallons of wine that were to have been sent from San Francisco to the synagogue for sacramental purposes have been held in San Francisco.

The rabbi is permitted by law to sell 10 gallons of wine each year to the members of the congregation for sacramental use.

The raid on the Los Angeles synagogue is believed to be the first time on record where representatives of the federal government have raided a house of worship while desecrating services were in progress.

Intensified vigilance on the part of the prohibition forces are now in evidence along the local water front.

A determined effort is being made by the officials to stop the smuggling of whisky ashore from steamers. Today 70 bottles of Scotch were found on the double walls of the vessel. Ten bottles were found in a barrel of butter and five bottles in the vegetable locker. Several bottles were also found in the engine room.

Seven persons were arrested in San Francisco today charged with having jacked brandy in their possession.

Check Passer Adopts
Name of U. S. Student

BERKELEY, Feb. 2.—Posing first as an army officer and then as a college student, a man 35 years old, giving the name of Donald Shaffer of Berkeley, was arrested yesterday in Los Angeles and is being held for the Berkeley police as a result of attempting to pass bad checks in the southern city.

An officer was despatched south today to bring the prisoner back to Berkeley. When arrested the youth was posing as Donald Shaffer, Berkeley college student, residing at 1924 University avenue. A bad check on which Shaffer's name was signed was passed by him before leaving for Los Angeles, according to the authorities.

In Berkeley the youth posed as Captain O. M. Baldinger, army officer, residing at the Hotel Whitecourt. He presented a check for $23.75 at the Hotel National Bank.

Shaffer declares he does not know the youth masquerading under his name.

Officer E. A. Herndon left for Wilkes this morning to bring back D. Strong, wanted for passing a bad check on the Abbey Electric Company.

Stage Beauty to Conduct Dancing
Classes at U. of C. Summer SessionRussian School Exponent To Lead Class.

BERKELEY, Feb. 2.—Dancing as an aid to grace and beauty will have an important place on the faculty of the university to follow the close of the present semester.

That Miss Leonora Thompson, who danced in musical comedy former chorus girl, exponent of the Russian school and recognized generally as a dancing star, will return to Berkeley in May to spend six weeks on the college campus, is the announcement of Dean Walter Morris Hart of the university's summer school.

It was to gain practical experience as a member of the chorus that Miss Thompson joined a big musical comedy company and danced her way across the continent. She has taught in leading schools of the country and for five years was instructor at the State Normal school in La Crosse, Wis.

Miss Thompson's work will precede the regular summer session on the campus.

Oakland "Y" Girls
Aid Pueblo Club

"Pueblo Day" will be observed tomorrow in the local Young Women's Christian Association. A benefit performance in which the staff members will participate will be given in the evening. The "Y" in Pueblo, Colo., will receive the proceeds from the day's festivities. Following the flood which destroyed their building, the Colorado women appealed to sister associations to assist them in their work of rehabilitation. The entertainment announced by the staff for tomorrow night is Oakland's response.

Hair Bobbing of
Co-ed Draws Big
Berkeley Crowd

BERKELEY, Feb. 2.—"Next," shouted the first barber and three co-eds started for his chair. The girl first in line seated herself and instructed the barber to "bob it," while her companions waited for their turn.

But the co-ed did not take into account when she decided to have her hair bobbed, that the place she had chosen was rather public. Before the barber had snipped off the first strand of hair, a crowd of students had gathered outside the window, and as time passed the crowd grew to such proportions that the sidewalk and part of the street were blocked. Men climbed telephone poles, and secured places of vantage on roof tops, and reported to those below the progress of the bobbing. Several cameras were brought into play, with the final result that only one of the three co-eds remained for the completion of the hair cutting.

OFFICERS HUNT
CATTLE THIEVES
NEAR IRVINGTON

Cattle rustlers in the vicinity of Irvington are being hunted by Deputy Sheriffs Bert Brown and Jack Collier, assisted by citizens of the community who have been complaining of the disappearance of cattle for the last few months.

The largest number of cattle stolen from any single source was reported by E. J. Hursch, large dairyman, in the vicinity of Irvington yesterday, who reported the loss of five pure bred Holsteins.

That there is an organized band in operation in the community is almost certain, according to those who are investigating the rustling, due to the fact that absolutely no traces have been left by the thieves in any of the cases.

Deputy Sheriff Brown spent all day yesterday investigating rumors in the district and special efforts are being made today under the leadership of Brown, who is an old timer in the game, to discover the whereabouts of some of the band or a portion of their loot.

Hursch discovered the loss of the cattle on Tuesday. He had made arrangements for the sale of 90 of his pure bred Holstein stock, and on Monday had segregated them on the remainder of the herd. On Tuesday, when a recount of the herd had been made, it was found that five of the choicest of the cattle had disappeared.

Mills College Has Five Fire Chiefs

Mills College has five student fire chiefs. They are Elizabeth McColl, Allen Burke, Gladys Merriman, Jean Thomas and Muriel Derolier. Their business is to give alarm when they break out and apply the emergency apparatus until assistance arrives. When Captain P. J. Bandy of the city fire department addressed the student body on fire prevention yesterday the student chiefs had a place on the platform with him.

Roomers Are Routed
By Night Blaze

The guests in a rooming house at 723 Washington street ran out of the place in their night clothes early today when an over-heated radiator place ignited the woodwork in one of the rooms. Under the direction of Battalion Fire Chief William Lutke, the department kept the fire confined to one room. The damage was slight. Mrs. A. G. Baum is the manager of the place.

DIVISION B—High school grades in public, private and parochial schools. First prize $500, second prize $250, third prize $150, four prizes of $50, four prizes of $25.

Any reader of The TRIBUNE may enter, whether a subscriber or not, in the registration blank. Read The TRIBUNE every day for new information.

Manuscripts must bear on the first page name of author, address and division. Manuscripts must not be rolled, but must be sent flat through the mail. Typewriter if possible, but this is not necessary, providing handwriting is clear and easily read. You need no technical knowledge of scenario writing at all to win a prize.

It is not a scenario you are writing. A Scenario Story is what you are asked to submit—a manuscript of 2000 words or less. STORY CRAMMED WITH ACTION, CONTAINING A PLOT OR AN IDEA ADAPTABLE TO SCREEN PRODUCTION.

Your Scenario Story may be an episode out of your own life. Or an incident that has come to your attention. Or an idea with dramatic possibilities.

Be original, for that is one of the points on which the judges will decide. Use good English—that is another.

AND REMEMBER THAT YOU NEED NO TECHNICAL KNOWLEDGE OR SCENARIO WRITING. YOU DO NOT HAVE TO HAVE SPECIAL TRAINING IN SCENARIO WRITING.

Four men and one woman, all of them prominent in the production of motion pictures, will act as judges of The TRIBUNE's scenario stories. They are:

FRANK E. WOODS, supervisor and chief, Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.
C. GARDNER SULLIVAN, probably the best known scenario writer in the world.
MARSHALL NEILAN, motion picture producer.

KATE CORBALLY, scenario writer, scenario expert, for years agent to the best known playwrights, head of the sales department of the Palmer Photoplay Corporation.

EDWARD HARRIS, University of California man, director general of Realart, author of "So Long Letty," "Canary Cottage" and a host of stage plays and film dramas.

Frank Woods' first permanent affiliation with the motion picture business was with David W. Griffith, when that famous producer was chief of Biograph. He next went to the old Reliance and Majestic companies. Then he and Fine Arts were the outgrowth of those old concerns. It was during this experience that Griffith put Woods' name on the screen as co-writer with himself of "The Birth of a Nation." When Tri- angle disintegrated, Woods went to the Lasky Company as supervising director.

C. Gardner Sullivan has given to the motion picture fans until, the "Woman" as the last of his work. He has written scenarios by the hundreds and is the highest paid author in the game.

Others of his screen plays are "Civilization," "Hairy Hinges," "The Poppy Girl's Husband" and "Selfish Yates."

Elmer Harrison has been associated with Oliver Morosco for some years. He wrote many of Morosco's best known plays and he has written scores of motion picture comedies. As producing head of Realart he has directed Betty Daniels, Wanda Hawley and Mollie Miller.

Of Marshall Neilan, little need be said. He has risen to the front ranks of motion picture production in the last three years. He is regarded by his rivals as a future permanent director.

Baillman's Gas-Tablets are for sale by the Owl Drug Co. and all the druggists. J. Baillman, Chemist, San Francisco—Advertisement.

BURGLAR, FIRED
ON, LOSES GLOVES AND OVERCOAT

Alameda Householder Confronted He Wounded Thief in Brisk Chase.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 2.—L. C. Hubner, 1418 Fourth street, took three shots at a burglar last night, and then captured the latter's overcoat, gloves and necktie. He also thinks that he hit the burglar as he ran west through the vacant lots.

Hubner heard a noise at the north side of his house late last night shortly after going to bed. Thinking that it was a cat, he paid no attention until he heard the screen over the window being torn away. Securing his revolver, he stepped into the room from where the noises were coming and saw the form of a large man, outlined on the window. He fired at it and the burglar ran. Hubner gave chase, firing two more shots. The burglar, however, had gained too great a headway, and so escaped. Policeman Richard Britt was attracted by the firing and made a thorough search of the neighborhood, but was unable to locate any trace of the man.

Hubner's wife was standing near the window where the burglar had been, and on examining it he discovered the latter's overcoat, three gloves and a necktie on the seat. The police have these and are endeavoring to identify them.

A burglar limned his way into the locker room of the Odd Fellows building, Park street and Santa Clara avenue, last night. He went through all of the lockers and is thought to have secured a quantity of loot. The robbery was reported to the police by Percy Fox, secretary of the Odd Fellows.

Some one entered the basement of the home of N. Kopka, 652 Haight street, yesterday afternoon, according to a report which he made to the police this morning. The windows were pried open.
